Caracas Terror Toll Rises

U.S. Prepares To Shut Down Cambodia Aid

Swing Of Asian Nation Into Peking Orbit Threatens

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Americans prepared Wednesday night to dismantle their aid machinery, fearful that Cambodia's refusal to accept further U.S. assistance will swing the nation into Red China's powerful orbit.

U.S. Ambassador Philip D. Sprouse was summoned to the Foreign Ministry, presumably to get the word that U.S. food and dollars no longer are welcome. He has not seen Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, for several months.

Note Sent To U. S.

In Washington, the State Department reported Cambodia sent a note asking negotiations to end U.S. aid. Sihanouk was said to have expressed his thanks for U.S. aid and reaffirmed his friendship.

Work on all U.S. aid projects halted Tuesday after Sihanouk told a cheering rally that as of now no more American aid would be accepted.

Despite repeated Washington denials, he again charged that U.S. aid was being used to undermine his government.

The United States has been pouring $30 million a year in military and economic aid into this little Asian nation to try to keep it neutral in struggle to save Southeast Asia from a Communist takeover.

Red China Approves

From Red China came enthusiastic approval of Sihanouk's decision. Foreign Minister Chen Yi told a meeting in Peking that Red China will give "resolute support to the Cambodian people in their just and patriotic struggle against imperialism and for the defense of their sovereignty."

Red China and the Soviet Union had been sending aid to Cambodia but it is small compared with the American effort.

Thailand, a neighbor on the north which has its own quarrel with Cambodia over border issues, accused Sihanouk of "selling his country to Communist China."

Terror In Venezuelan Capital

Soldiers and police carry off a casualty during the pro-Communist campaign of terror in Caracas, Venezuela. Twenty-four have been killed and 84 wounded since the underground struck in an attempt to topple the government of President Romulo Betancourt. (AP Photofax)

Congo Arrests U. S.-Inspired, Kremlin Claims

Iraqi Students Stage Six-Hour Embassy Sit-In

LONDON (AP)—Three hundred Iraqi students protesting Monday's army coup in Baghdad occupied Iraq's Embassy for six hours Wednesday. Then they filed out peaceably, claiming they had achieved their objectives.

The demonstrators had said they would stay in the embassy for weeks if necessary. But they quit after a four-man deputation held talks with Ambassador Abdul Bazzaz.

The envoy asked them to leave.

"We discussed the matter and I convinced them that they should behave in a proper way," he said.

Zivhar Kadiri, 29, spokesman for the students, claimed they had been told that President Abdel Salam Aref, leader of the military coup, will form a new Iraqi government including representatives of the deposed Baathist Socialist party.

"That is what we needed to know," he said.

The slogan - chanting mob swarmed into the four-story embassy building soon after lunch. About 20 of the embassy's diplomatic staff promptly left. Bazzaz was at home.

On Monday, Aref and a group of generals seized control of Iraq's parliamentary-style government from the Baath party. Iraq was reported quiet after two days of clashes between the army and the Baathist-led guard.

Two Russians Beaten, Seized; Fate Not Known

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The Congolese government remained silent Wednesday on the fate of two Soviet diplomats who were dragged from their car, beaten and hustled off in an army truck Tuesday.

Premier Cyrille Adoula met with his Cabinet to study what some sources said were incriminating documents seized from the Russians.

Plot Indicated

There was no official word on the reason for the arrests, but the Russians apparently were under suspicion of participating in antigovernment activities.

They were seized on their return from Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo, where extremist nationalist opponents of the Congolese government are in exile. They were reported to have been under surveillance for some time.

The Congolese cut off electrical and telephone service to the luxury apartment building which provides office facilities and living quarters for the 100-man Soviet mission. Gendarmes outside the building refused to allow visitors to enter.

Soviet officials also said a Soviet cultural attache, Valery Tcherpatchenko, was arrested by Congolese police just outside the embassy when he tried to see what had happened to two Czech diplomats who also were detained.

"Severe Provocation"

They said Tcherpatchenko and the Czechs were forced to stand all night in a tropical downpour.

The incidents were described by Soviet officials as "a severe provocation."

Reaction in Moscow was equally sharp. The government newspaper Izvestia called the arrest of the two diplomats a "shameful provocation" which it blamed on the influence of Belgian and U.S. advisers to the Congolese government.

DISBARRED — Z. T. Osborn, Jr., (above), of Nashville, Tenn., attorney for James R. Hoffa, was disbarred last night from practicing in U.S. District Court in Nashville for allegedly trying to influence a prospective juror in Hoffa's upcoming trial. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is scheduled to go on trial Jan. 6 on charges of attempting to influence jurors in his 1962 trial which ended in a hung jury. (AP Photofax)

Police, Army Troops Duel With Snipers

Red Underground Pushes Campaign; 24 Killed, 84 Hurt

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police and troops with automatic weapons and bazookas battled terrorist snipers in downtown Caracas Wednesday, the second day of a pro-Communist campaign of terror in the capital.

When the firing died in the El Silencio district of modern buildings and towering government offices, 4 persons were unofficially reported dead and 14 other Venezuelans, one a policeman, were wounded. The dead included a 27-year-old housewife shot on a street.

Thus the troubled Venezuelan capital counted a toll of 24 dead and 84 wounded since the Castroite underground struck Tuesday morning in its attempt to topple President Romulo Betancourt's government.

150 Terrorists Arrested

Arrests of terrorists rose to 150 and included Victor Jose Ochoa, leader of the student wing of the leftist Republican Democratic Union party. He was captured in a house with stolen military uniforms.

Backed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba, the terrorists also hope to block the presidential elections set for Dec. 1.

President Kennedy has laid the terror campaign at the door of international Communists "aided by their Cuban allies" and has promised Betancourt full U.S. support.

Violence also was reported from the interior for the second day in a row. A bomb exploded in a city bus at Barquisimeto, wounding a woman and a child. A telephone exchange was bombed in Maracay.

Airport Attacked

Four terrorists attacked the airport at Maracaibo, but were captured by guards.

Unlike Tuesday, when telephoned threats forced merchants to close shops and motorists were frightened off the streets, Caracas took the day's fighting almost casually.

Stores remained open, and hundreds of curious stood by while troops rushed a building where snipers were hidden.

In addition to stationing snipers in office building windows, the underground Armed Forces for National Liberation — FALN —also opened fire on a police station in downtown Caracas.

Hoffa Attorney Disbarred For Jury Violation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two federal judges charged Wednesday night that an attempt had been made to influence a prospective juror in Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's upcoming trial on jury-tampering charges.

Dist. Judges William E. Miller and Frank Gray Jr. disbarred the attorney, Z. T. Osborn Jr. of Nashville, from practice in federal court for his alleged participation in the attempt.

Osborn, one of the attorneys in Hoffa's federal court trial here last year from which the original jury - tampering charges stemmed, was not reachable immediately for comment.

The judges said Osborn approached Nashville metropolitan policeman Robert D. Vick Nov. 11 and requested the officer to contact Ralph A. Elliott, a prospective juror, about the pending Hoffa trial.

Osborn proposed to pay the prospective juror $5,000 if and when he was selected on the trial jury and an additional $5,000 at the end of the trial, if the Teamster president was not convicted, the judges said.

The judges, in a memorandum, accused Osborn of giving false answers to the court in a private hearing.

The judges charged Hoffa's lawyer with "criminal and professional violations and misconduct of such character as to clearly indicate a moral unfitness to engage in the practice of law in this court."

Sen. McClellan, Gilpatric Clash At TFX Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D - Ark., told Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric Wednesday that he should have disqualified himself from Pentagon consideration of the big TFX plane contract.

Gilpatric countered that it would have been unsound and "not proper" for him to do so. He declared that he had acted ethically in the case and that a dispassionate examination of the record would bear him out.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, tangled with Gilpatric during the defense official's third consecutive day of testimony on the award of the multi-billion dollar contract to General Dynamics Corp.

Gilpatric was one of the civilian defense chiefs who recommended that the contract go to General Dynamics rather than the rival Boeing Co. The subcommittee is trying to determine whether any favoritism was involved.

McClellan also charged that Gilpatric may have violated the conflict of interest laws because of legal services he performed for General Dynamics before taking his defense post. Gilpatric challenged the statement and was backed by several senators.

"I think you should have disqualified yourself," McClellan told the witness. "No question in the world about it."

Wells To Direct Rocky's Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—John A. Wells, a New York lawyer who has been a diligent background worker in Republican national politics for more than a decade, was named Wednesday as national director of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's campaign for the presidency.

Little known to the public, Wells' first assignment will be to promote Rockefeller for the GOP nomination at next year's national convention. The governor's chief undeclared rival is Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Party 'Hot Line' Not Necessary, Rusk Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican group in Congress urged that all the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies be plugged in on the "hot line" between Washington and Moscow. Secretary of State Dean Rusk replied that it isn't really necessary.

"The purposes of communication with our allies are entirely different from those of the 'hot line,' being directed toward consulation rather than toward the prevention of catastrophe in a moment of crisis," Rusk wrote to Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn.

Quie headed a House Republican task force on NATO unity which made the hot line recommendation to President Kennedy in a letter on Aug. 26, just before the emergency communication link was opened.

The special circuit is manned 24 hours a day, but officials say it has not been used thus far for anything except periodic test messages.

At a news conference Wednesday, Quie said Rusk's reply for the President was "not entirely responsive" and he renewed the recommendation for making a NATO party line out of the hot line.

The GOP group told the President "we are deeply concerned about the adverse psychological impact" of the hot line which "bypasses our NATO partners completely."

They added, "We give the appearance of treating our NATO partners as irresponsible children. We appear to be more interested in establishing a private line with the enemy than with our friends."

Mundt Urges Ban On Credit In Wheat Deals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., urged Congress Wednesday to vote a ban on the government underwriting the credit of Communist countries in the purchase of wheat and other U.S. commodities.

Mundt appeared before the Senate Banking Committee on behalf of his bill, which would impose the credit prohibition on the Export-Import Bank.

Another snag to the U.S.-Soviet wheat deal also cropped up at the State Department. It was learned that Soviet negotiators told U.S. officials Tuesday that the prices proposed by private commercial firms for the purchase of the grain and its shipment to Russia are too high.

The Russians told the State Department they felt the reason for the high prices was U.S. government insistence that 50 per cent of the wheat be shipped in American vessels, which charge higher rates than foreign lines. They asked if this ratio could be changed.

The State Department replied it did not want to re-enter government - to - government negotiations over wheat sales, and would leave it between the Soviets and American businessmen.

Reconnaissance Plane Missing

OMAHA (AP) — The Strategic Air Command said Wednesday night a WU2 aircraft returning from a routine reconnaissance mission was reported lost 40 miles northwest of Key West, Fla.

The plane disappeared from land-based radar scopes at 10:32 a.m., EST, SAC said. A pilot in the area reported sighting an oil slick a few minutes later.

The pilot of the WU2 was identified as Capt. Joe G. Hyde Jr., 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Hyde Sr., of LaGrange, Ga.

A SAC spokesman said "W" preceding the U2 designation stands for the word "weather."

The spokesman said it was believed a mechanical failure caused the crash. He said there was no evidence that hostile action was involved.

An air and sea search was in progress.

AFL-CIO Reelects Meany To 5th Term

NEW YORK (UPI) — The week-long AFL-CIO convention adjourned Wednesday demanding a 35-hour work week and a $2 minimum wage and supporting President Kennedy's $11 billion tax reduction legislation as a means to give a "quick lift" to the American economy.

The 1200 delegates also re-elected George Meany to his fifth consecutive two-year term as president of the world's largest labor organization, and returned all other officers to their posts.

High Officials Hold Viet Nam Strategy Talks

HONOLULU (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk discussed Wednesday "all aspects of the situation in South Viet Nam" with the secretary of defense, military strategists and the U.S. ambassador to that troubled country.

The day-long conference at Pacific military headquarters brought together high - ranking United States military and civilian officials from east and west for a long look at policies in both Viet Nam and Southeast Asia.

Their conclusions were to be reported back to President Kennedy.

From Washington, in addition to Rusk, came Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

From Saigon came U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. Paul D. Harkins, head of the U.S. military advisory group in South Viet Nam.

Already here was Adm. Harry D. Felt who controls all U.S. military operations in the Pacific and Far East.

All top Pacific military commanders were here as well as other government officials.

Quill Hospitalized

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, New York City, was in a hospital Wednesday with an undisclosed ailment.

Soviet-China Peace Meeting Seen Nearer

MOSCOW (AP) — A slow turn in Soviet Communist party policy was reported Wednesday to have brought the Kremlin nearer a second conference with China to try to heal their bitter policy clash.

Just how far the party leaders here have gone was debatable, but many Westerners and some international Communists here said the Soviet party leaders might be prepared to go to a meeting some time early in the new year, probably in Peking.

Reports were current, not solidly confirmed, that some low-level talks had been held in Moscow already between Chinese Embassy people and Soviet party officials. The Westerners felt that any such talks might have brought up procedural matters — just how to get started on the way to arranging a meeting.

The Chinese ambassador here, Pan Tsu Li, is a small fiddle in the Chinese Communist orchestra. It was not considered likely he could move very far toward bringing about a meeting.

Kennedy Goes To Texas Today

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—President Kennedy comes to politically shaky Texas for three days starting Thursday. His pending trip has accented the divisions in the Texas Democratic party.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy, along with native-son Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, will visit five cities which produce 36 per cent of the Texas vote.

Then the party will spend the night at Vice President Johnson's ranch before returning to Washington, probably after noon Saturday.

Only the $100-a-plate dinner Friday night at Austin, the Texas capital, is labeled political by the White House—but the implications are clear.

Kennedy carried Texas by a scant 46,233 votes of 2,311,845 cast in 1960. His friend, John B. Connally, won the governor's office in 1962 by 132,013 ballots out of 1.5 million—a very slim margin for a state which once considered itself solidly Democratic at least on the state level.

Exchanges Suspend Two Broker Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Two brokerage houses, in financial trouble over multimillion-dollar commodity trading accounts were stripped of trading privileges on the New York and American stock exchanges Wednesday.

The exchanges suspended Ira Haupt & Co. and J. R. Williston and Beane, Inc.

This meant that the firms, with offices spread over several states, could not do business with the public for the time being.

The New York exchange said Haupt and Williston and Beane were "in such financial condition that they cannot be permitted to continue in business with safety to their creditors or the exchange."

U.S. And Swiss Prelates Back Declarations

VATICAN CITY (AP)—American and Swiss prelates urged the Vatican Ecumenical Council Wednesday to approve two disputed declarations aimed at ending anti-Semitism and promoting religious freedom.

A group of bishops from the United States was led by Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago.

The Americans' stand won immediate support from the entire Swiss Roman Catholic hierarchy. The Swiss further proposed that the council turn its attention to Moslems and all people who believe in God.

Criticism of the two declarations continued to come from the floor of St. Peter's Basilica, where 2,300 prelates from around the world are meeting.

An Italian cardinal, a Spanish archbishop and a bishop from Mexico objected to the declarations being included in the schema on ecumenism or Christian unity. The first three chapters deal with the question of relations with non-Catholic Christian churches. The two declarations make up separate chapters of the schema.

AT&T Boosts Dividend, Proposes 2-1 Stock Split

NEW YORK (AP)—American Telephone & Telegraph Co. passed out a giant stack of blue chips Wednesday by raising the common stock dividend, proposing a 2-for-1 stock split and cutting shareowners in on the largest single corporate financing effort ever attempted.

The dividend increase of 11 per cent, to $1 a share quarterly from 90 cents, is effective next April. It will be the third in the last 43 years for the bluest of the blue chip companies.

At a regular monthly meeting, directors recommended the second split in company history, to be made next June if the company's 2.2 million stockholders approve at the April 15 annual meeting.

AT&T, parent company of the nationwide Bell System, will follow custom and do its own financing by offering stockholders of record Feb. 18, 1964, one share of stock for every 20 held. The price, which will be "somewhat" below the market price, will be fixed at that time.

Based upon current values, the financing would easily raise a billion dollars. The last AT&T stock offering in March 1961 raised $961,175,302 and was the most money ever raised by any company at one time. That offering resulted in the sale of 11,176,457 shares.

AT&T said next year's offering will make 12.25 million shares available based upon about 244 million now outstanding.

The money will be used for a record $3.25 billion 1964 construction program, up from $3.1 billion this year.

Ex-Nazi Who Arrested Anne Frank Unmasked

VIENNA (UPI) — Austrian authorities disclosed Wednesday that the man who arrested Anne Frank and her family in Amsterdam in August, 1944, has been suspended from his job as a police inspector in Vienna pending an inquiry into his activities under the Nazi regime.

An Interior Ministry spokesman identified the inspector as 52-year-old Karl Silberbauer, a former Nazi party member who served in the German state police during World War II.

The spokesman said Silberbauer, who was tracked down as the result of research by the head of the local Jewish Documentation Center, had admitted he was the German police officer who arrested the young Jewish girl, who died later in a Nazi concentration camp.

Anne Frank and her family had hidden in an Amsterdam attic for years to avoid arrest and deportation as Jews to a Nazi death camp. The girl told the tragic story in "The Diary of Anne Frank," which was found after her arrest and published. The diary was the basis for a play and a movie.

Silberbauer was tracked down by Simon Weisenthal, head of the Jewish Documentation Center in Austria.

According to the Austrian spokesman, Weisenthal had only one clue when he began his search two years ago — a statement from the man who hid the Frank family that "a Nazi from Vienna by the name of Silbernagel was responsible for her arrest."

House Cuts Budget For Disarm Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Wednesday a bill authorizing $10 million a year in spending by the Disarmament Agency.

This is the same figure the Senate had approved but is only two thirds of the amount the agency asked

The bill was passed on a 252-133 roll call vote. An effort to put the ceiling at $15 million a year for the next two years was defeated by a nonrecord teller vote of 145-108.

U.N. Calls For Ban On Racial Discrimination

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly approved overwhelmingly Wednesday a sweeping declaration calling on governments to eliminate all forms of racial discrimination.

South Africa, condemned for its apartheid (segregation) policies, did not participate in the vote.

The 111-nation General Assembly endorsed by acclamation a declaration of general principles. It approved, 101-0, an appeal to governments to implement and publicize the declaration.

The third part of the package, authorizing moves to convert the declaration of principles into an international convention, was adopted 89-0 with 14 abstentions. The future convention could be binding on nations that sign it.

Jury Slated To Get Warfel Case Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — Testimony ended Wednesday in the murder trial of William H. Warfel, a 21-year-old shipyard rigger from Hanover, Md., accused in the shotgun slaying of a 19-year-old soldier.

Closing arguments are to be presented by both the defense and prosecution Thursday, with the all-male jury expected to get the case by noon.

Warfel is accused of shooting PFC. Reinaldo Rodriguez, a Puerto Rican, at the climax of a racial disturbance.

Dismissal Of Charge Against Boy Sought

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—A Baltimore lawyer asked Carroll County Circuit Court Wednesday to dismiss a murder indictment against an 11-year-old mental patient.

The defendant, Anthony T. Bielas, is accused with two other boys—one 17, the other 15—of killing Sterling Turfle, 53, a fellow mental patient at Springfield State Hospital.

The three were accused in an indictment returned Nov. 12.

The lawyer, Fred Weisgal, in a motion for dismissal, said Bielas does not have the mental capacity to understand the nature of the charge against him.

Furthermore, Weisgal said, the boy's youth prevents him from being able to form the intention to commit murder. Nor does Bielas have the mental capacity to assist his defense lawyer, Weisgal said.

Labor Leader Sues AMA, Charging Record 'Phony'

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO charged the American Medical Association with distributing a phony record misrepresenting a steelworkers official as a tough-talking labor leader who threatens union members to collect political funds.

AFL - CIO President George Meany announced that the steelworkers official, Paul Normile of Pittsburgh, has filed a $400,000 damage suit against the AMA in federal court in Washington.

Normile, at a news conference Wednesday, said he never made such a speech, nor was any such union meeting held, as represented on the record.

Normile's suit charges that the record has been widely distributed by the AMA and the American Medical Political Action Committee, established by the AMA.

Meany, Normile and President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union said the record was completely fraudulent.

The record, played at the news conference, represents Normile as telling a group of labor leaders that the steelworkers' Dist. 16 must "kick in" $146,000 to the Committee on Political Education, the AFL-CIO's political arm, to fight for medical care legislation in Congress.

"No ifs ands or buts," the voice on the record says. "For those who don't want to give, you shop stewards can always let them know there's still a graveyard shift. They'll kick in."

Arsonist Sought In Hotel Blaze

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Police searched this resort city Wednesday for a known arsonist seen near the Surfside Hotel two days ago when fire leveled the building and killed 25 persons.

Detective Capt. William Rickert, chief of the arson squad, said the man had moved from his known address but apparently was hiding out somewhere in the city. A bus driver recognized the man as a "known arsonist" when he boarded a bus 2½ blocks from the hotel about 40 minutes after the first alarm early Monday.

Students To Entertain Children

Three philanthropic projects were discussed at the meeting of the Student Government of Memorial Hospital, conducted by Miss Judy Menges, Tuesday evening at the nurses home.

The student government is having a party for handicapped children the afternoon of December 14. It is to be held in the recreation room of the nurses home. There will be a visit by Santa to distribute gifts, songs, a movie and refreshments. Each three students will sponsor a child for a gift of a toy and article of clothing.

It was reported that 100 cans of food and $10 for perishables have been collected for the welfare family the group is sponsoring for Thanksgiving. It will sponsor another family with 10 children for Christmas, providing gifts, dinner, a Christmas tree and decorations.

Plans also were discussed for their own Christmas party. It will be December 19 and be proceeded by caroling in the hospital. There will be an exchange of jingles, entertainment and refreshments. Classes campaigned for the candidate for "Queen" who will be crowned at the Christmas dance December 23 at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Also it was announced that the first week of December the freshmen will decorate the nurses home for Christmas.

There was a discussion of the trip 11 students and two advisors will make November 26-27 to Baltimore, to attend two state nurses meetings. Reports were given on the sale of sweat shirts, caps, stripes for graduate caps and pins of the hospital initials and graduation year, and it was announced that now Memorial Hospital letterhead stationery has been added to the list.

Mud Hens To Sponsor Ceramic Show In Spring

The Queen City Mud Hens decided to have a ceramic show in the spring of 1964, with proceeds from admission being given to Friends Aware of Handicapped Children. Plans were made at the November meeting held at the home of Mrs. Irene Critzman, Bedford Road.

Mrs. Betty Chaney presided and read the bylaws. She also reported on the Hagerstown ceramic show. Others attending with her were Mrs. Critzman, Mrs. Eleanor Snyder and Mrs. Roberta Powers.

A report of the Christmas committee was given by Miss Helen Cherry and Mrs. Virginia Chaney. It was decided that the Christmas party will be held at Cas Taylor's Dugout December 17, at 6:30. Reservations are to be made no later than December 13.

Pieces on display were a pitcher and a pheasant done in stain; an ash tray with small antique car done in orange speck and black underglaze, by Mrs. Eleanor Snyder; a Madonna done in stain by Mrs. Georgetta Gilford; a mermaid done in stain by Mrs. Critzman; a plate done in batik by Miss Cherry; a plate done in one stroke and one in batik, and a small dish with a hand in the center by Mrs. Irma Allison; and a quanyehn, Oriental woman, done in Italian antique glaze, a set of carolers done in stain and a pixie plate in underglaze by Mrs. Powers.

Others attending were Mrs. Ellen Cook, Mrs. Virginia Chaney, Mrs. Grace Trevaskis and two guests, Mrs. Ella Klavuhn and Mrs. Elizabeth Butts. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Allison on the 21st.

Society Receives Reports

Reports were given and a program presented at the meeting of the Women's Society of Grace Methodist Church, held in the fellowship hall. Mrs. Lillian Hollar reported $164 in the treasury, with a $22.30 offering received. The "call to prayer and self denial" offering amounted to $26.70.

The parsonage committee reported a new living room suite had been purchased for the parsonage. Mrs. John Williams announced the articles bought for the kitchen amounted to $39.64.

Mrs. Robert Moales distributed membership cards for the board of Child Care. Reporting on the meeting in Hagerstown, she said of the 220 members ten are from Grace church. Members were reminded that the Christmas party for the children in Hagerstown will be December 17.

A letter from the missionary, Miss Joy Anderson was read by Mrs. Robert Young. It was thanking the society for a gift of $5, also letters she had received. Mrs. Young suggested the members remembered her in their prayers and each send her a Christmas card, but instead of writing on it, send a note on a separate piece of paper. Thank you notes also were read from Mrs. Lottie Daily, Mrs. Nell Nichols and Miss Lillian Compton.

It was announced that an average of 16 attended the study session. Mrs. Mary House reported on literature. Mrs. Dorothey Cornwell suggested the society have a kitchenware party and Miss Gertrude Rank that the society will go to the gas company for a demonstration.

Devotions were led by Mrs. A. E. Kesecker, using as her topic, "The Tree of Life." Mrs. Evelyn Burke read the Scripture and Mrs. Mary Wade and Mrs. Elva Thorpe offered prayer. The group sang, "Alas and Did My Saviour Bleed," and "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." Mrs. Moales had charge of the program on "World Federation of Methodist Women," and defined the "tree" the society's official symbol. Films on "World Wide Friends" and "Oslo, Meeting of Methodist Women" were shown by Rev. Moales, who also offered the closing prayer. Refreshments were served by Circle 1.

Donation Made

A donation of $10 was voted by the Swanson Memorial Bible Class of Second Baptist Church, for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Williams, Mullan Street. Reports were given by Mrs. Regina Williams and Mrs. Mary Robinson. Mrs. Regina Williams read the Scripture. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Robinson, Arch Street.

Yule Plans Made

The Mixed Young Adults of St. Mark's United Church of Christ voted to send personal gifts to the Reynolds boys at St. Paul's Children's Home, and decorate the church for the holiday season. Plans also were made for a buffet dinner and jingle party. It will be December 6 at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Following the meeting, the group bowled at White Oaks. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hartsock, Mrs. Margaret Ballard, Mrs. Shirley Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bruner, Miss Virginia Nixon, Mrs. Elaine Clinebell and Mr. and Mrs. William Underdonk.

Club Receives A New Member

The Mountainbrook Toastmistress Club received Mrs. Hannah Lancaster as a member earlier in the week at the Cumberland Country Club.

For the evening Mrs. Ellen Long was toastmistress; Mrs. Joanne Weber, topicmistress; Mrs. Evelyn O'Donnell, Mrs. Patricia Jacobs, Mrs. Louella McAloose were the speakers; and Mrs. Norma James, Mrs. Norma Smith, Mrs. Marian Heiskell and Mrs. Bonnie Quigley, evaluators.

North Cumberland Homemakers will mark Achievement day at 1:15 today at Fairview Avenue Church hall.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Spotlessly Clean

Ben Franklin, that jack of all knowledge, considered cleanliness of utmost importance.

He graded himself on cleanliness. According to the records, for 50 years he checked his personal score on cleanliness every single day. Franklin simply recognized the importance of daily cleanliness — of liberally applying soap and water.

Modern beauty and health experts agree with Benjamin Franklin. Soap lather, a very prominent TV make-up man recently told me, is a woman's best friend.

However, we want to emphasize that the WAY you wash with soap and water is very significant. Dry skins have to be washed gently, normal skins with moderate energy. Oily skins can take a vigorous scrubbing.

Also note, not everyone should use the same kind of soap. The secret is to use the right soap for your skin type.

For example, if you have dry skin always remove your cosmetics with a creamy cleanser. Then wash your face but once a day with a super-fatter or lanolin-based complexion soap. If you have oily skin, cleanse your face at least three times daily with a floating soap. If you have normal skin, use a mild facial soap and wash the face upon arising and at bedtime. If you have a dual problem—a combination of dry and oily areas—you must treat each separately. Lather the oily sections with floating soap three times daily, the remainder only once a day, preferably before retiring.

"FIGURED FOR YOU" is a booklet that gives expert, detailed instructions and illustrates how to select foundation garments that provide comeliness, control, and healthful comfort for your individual type of figure. For your copy send 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to John Robert Powers in care of this newspaper.

Associate Membership Voted By Club

An associate membership was voted for Mrs. Frank Stuart Rowe at the meeting of the Music and Arts Club, Monday evening at SS. Peter and Paul's hall. Joan Luttrell Wade was invited to join the group.

Plans were made to collect recordings at the December 9 meeting and donate to the County Home for the record player the club donated in the spring.

Cumberland BPW Have Program, Announcements

The Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club heard a lecture on "A Diary in Watercolors" given by Mrs. Cecile Erickson, at the dinner meeting Tuesday at the YMCA. Introduced by Mrs. Frieda Massara, Mrs. Erickson emphasized the value of a hobby for women. Her's in sketching memorable details in her travels over the country and making the water colors. She showed some of her paintings and discoursed on occasions that they recalled for her. The "Watereolor Diary" took club members from New England to Bermuda, through the Middle West and back to Cumberland. After a quick demonstration of making watercolors, the speaker concluded with "so you see that's all there is, it is as easy as falling off a log."

Miss Gerardine Pritchard was elected to represent the Cumberland club on the state nominating committee, headed by Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, of the local club. This committee will meet to make nominations in February in Frederick.

A committee from the local club to select members from the Cumberland group to run for state office is composed of Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Miss Logsdon, Mrs. Massara, Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard and Mrs. Ethel Northcraft. It will meet at 7 p.m., November 27 at the Y.

Miss Nell Hawkins reported on the rummage sale for the benefit of the scholarship fund; Mrs. Eva Hogan, for the ways and means committee and Mrs. Ellen Carroll, fellowship committee.

Winning teams in the attendance contest were announced by Mrs. Ellen McKenzie. For September Miss Anna Nicht's team led with Mrs. Carroll's group second. October winners were groups headed by Mrs. Northcraft and Mrs. Dessie Williams. The contest will continue through the year.

The "Pennies for Hospitality" project for the national BPW was begun. Mrs. Effie True, chairman of welfare and recreation, announced a Christmas party to be at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, December 10 at 6:30. Members are to contribute to the special Christmas project and exchange jingles.

Film Shown

A film of the work of Dr. Frank Laubach to combat illiteracy in various parts of the world was shown at the meeting of the Moravec-Kight Circle of LaVale Methodist Church, held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Vanderlinde, Forest Drive.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. John [illegible]. Mrs. Richard Eaton [illegible] votions. Others attending were Mrs. Ivan Daniels, Mrs. Darrell Diehl, Mrs. Harry Eisentrout, Sr., Mrs. Dennis McIntyre, Mrs. Lewis Reed, Mrs. August Ricker, Mrs. Norval Stanley, Mrs. James Walburn, and two visitors, Mrs. Richard Leedy and Mrs. Robert Shockley.

Group Makes Gift To Church

A donation of $100 was given to the Murley's Branch Methodist Church by the Women's Society, as part of the proceeds of making apple butter. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Richard Yonker at the home of Mrs. Paul Robinette.

Devotions entitled, "How To Grow in Christian Life," were conducted by Mrs. Homer Willison. Readings included "Check Your Life," by Mrs. Ruth Weicht; "Evidence of Fruit," Mrs. Walter Bender; "Life for Eternity," Mrs. Justice Heavner; "Finding God's Will," Mrs. Lowell Dodd; "Open and Closed Doors," Mrs. Paul Browning; "What Thanksgiving Does," Mrs. Andrew Twigg; "God's Spoken" Mrs. Yonker; "Sin Hinders," Mrs. Robinette; and "Thanksgiving Prayer," Mrs. Jack Bowman, followed by prayer by Mrs. Willison.

The group sang, "Dear Lord Our Father of Mankind," "Come Ye Thankful People Come," and "For All the Blessings of the Year." A social hour followed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bowman with devotions by Mrs. Robinette.

Morton's Plan For Assateague Under Attack

BALTIMORE (AP) "Unworkable" and "idealistic compromise" were the words a state official used Wednesday to describe Rep. Rogers C.B. Morton's plan for Assateague Island.

S. Lawrence Hammerman, chairman of the State Forest and Parks Commission, said Morton's plan would not be in the public interest.

Morton, a Republican representing the 1st District, has urged that the 32-mile island off Worcester County's Atlantic coast be developed under a joint private-public plan.

Maryland would develop a park on the northern end, the federal government would maintain the southern end as a wildlife refuge and outdoors recreation area, and private interests would develop the middle portion.

Support of the congressman's proposal came Tuesday from members of a Worcester delegation appearing before a House Interior and Insular Affairs subcommittee. Afterward, Morton said he was optimistic that his bill embodying the private-public plan would be passed by the House.

Hammerman favors a Department of the Interior proposal to take over all but the northern end of the island and preserve it as a national seashore park. The state would go ahead with plans for a park on the north end.

He expressed the fear Wednesday that attempts to whittle away federal preservation of the island could lead to a "bad plan or no plan at all."

Champion Steer Brings $2,296

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — A Baltimore meat packer paid a whopping $2.06 a pound, or $2,296, Wednesday for the grand champion steer of the Eastern National Livestock Show at the Maryland State Fairgrounds.

The Schluderberg-Kurdle Co. paid the price to Doris and Shirley Brown of Tigerville, S.C., who bought the Aberdeen angus as a feeder calf at the Eastern National last year. They paid about $150 for him.

The reserve grand champion, a 1,100 pound hereford snown by the Still House Hoolow Farm of Hume, Va., was sold to Benson Meat Products of Bel Air, Md., for 77 cents a pound.

The 4-H champion, a 1,035-pound angus shown by John Frey, 16, of Quarryville, Pa., was bought by John C. Heinz of Baltimore for 75 cents a pound.

Mental Hospital Change Proposed

BALTIMORE (AP)—Professional administrators instead of doctors as superintendents of Maryland mental hospitals were reported Wednesday by a legislative committee to be worthy of further study.

"Using hospital administrators as superintendents rather than doctors might result in greater efficiency," reported the committee on taxation and fiscal matters.

The committee report received by the Legislative Council urged further exploration of its proposal.

In making it, Sen. Harry R. Hughes, D-Caroline, said it was based on a study of Rosewood State Hospital.

Maryland Hunter Killed In Virginia

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—A 31-year-old Suburban Heights, Md., man was shot accidentally and killed Wednesday on a deer hunting trip in Shenandoah County.

Authorities said Robert S. Senior was killed when Edward Beyer, a District of Columbia policeman, apparently mistook Senior's movements for a deer in a heavily wooded section of Shenandoah.

Zantzinger Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)-Mrs. Jane Duval Zantzinger, 24, is scheduled to be tried Dec. 2 on charges of disorderly conduct and assaulting a policeman.

The charges arose from the same series of incidents in which her husband, William, was tried and convicted of manslaughter for striking a waitress with a cane. He is serving a six-month sentence in the Washington County jail.

Plans Progress For Pool In LaVale Area

Plans for a community swimming pool in the LaVale area took a step forward Tuesday at a meeting of the LaVale Lions Club at which representatives of other organizations expressed support of the plan.

Richard D. Heacox, president of the Lions Club, said the other clubs had been invited to send representatives in view of the cost of the project. He pointed out a proposal of such magnitude would need the backing of all residents of the LaVale region.

In reviewing the swimming pool proposal, Heacox said a long range project of the Lions Club was formation of a park, with the focal point being a swimming pool.

Plans were drawn up and estimates assembled on both the cost of a pool and the cost of a complete community park. A study of the costs indicated the projects would be too extensive for the LaVale region to underwrite and the plan was dropped, Heacox said.

It was discovered the Meyersdale (Pa.) Lions Club had largely underwritten the cost of a community swimming pool in that town, and spokesmen for the organization were asked to explain how they achieved their goal.

Following their information and a question and answer period, the Lions Club appointed a committee to work out a canvassing plan to determine the feelings of the LaVale area residents on the desirability of a pool, and whether they would support such a project.

The committee will report at the December 3 meeting of the club when some definite action will be taken, Heacox said.

Invited to attend the meeting were representatives from the LaVale Century Club, LaVale Optimist Club, LaVale Civic Improvement Association, LaVale Athletic Association and LaVale Fire Company.

Northeast PTA To Meet Today

The Northeast PTA will meet today at 7 p.m. A business meeting will follow visitation.

John Cessna, program chairman, will introduce the speaker of the evening, Norman Curtis. Mr. Curtis, director of training and employment, will speak and show slides on "Processes of Manufacturing Kinds of Glass."

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Sarah Herron's home room mothers.

Parking Changes Made On City Streets

New parking regulations on two more streets were placed in effect yesterday, it was announced by Police Commissioner William V. Keegan.

The streets affected are Pearre Avenue, between Frederick and Bedford streets, and a portion of Race Street near its intersection with Oldtown Road.

The one-block long Pearre Avenue thus joins a number of other streets where alternate parking is in effect on a monthly basis, with Commissioner Keegan explaining that the changeover will become effective on the first of each month.

The plan, he points out, benefits the movement of traffic and also results in more even wear of the paving.

A portion of Race Street has been "red lined" as a safety measure, the commissioner said, explaining that the street narrows toward the Oldtown Road intersection and creates a hazard, particularly for fire and other emergency vehicles.

The parking ban is on one side of the street only, and signs have been placed in addition to the curb marking.

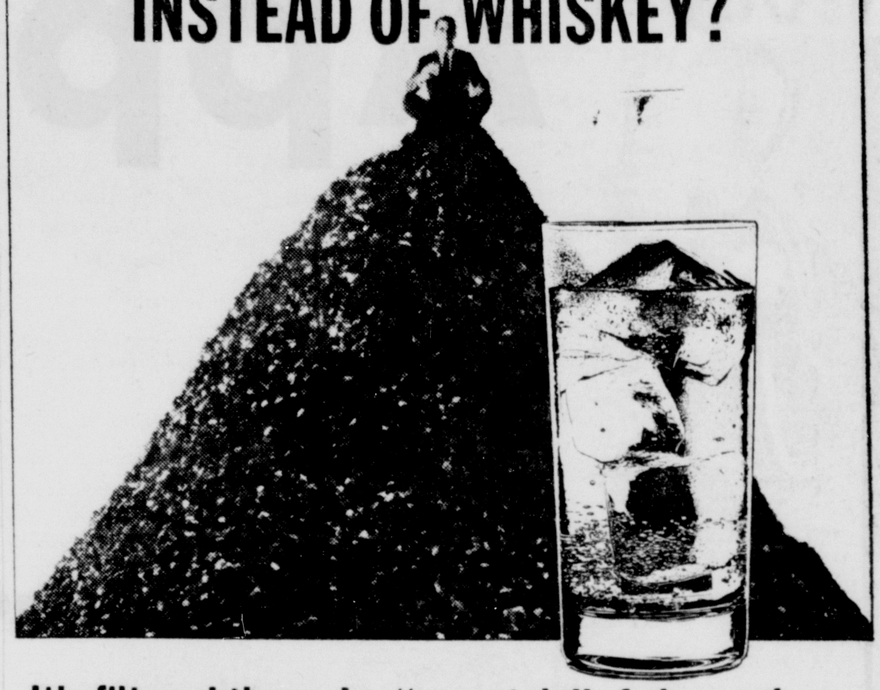
WHY SMIRNOFF INSTEAD OF WHISKEY?



It's filtered through a "mountain" of charcoal

If you don't care for the taste of whiskey (and many people don't) try Smirnoff for delicious liquor drinks that don't taste like liquor. Smirnoff is filtered through 7 tons of activated charcoal. This "black magic" removes most of the congeners, leaves Smirnoff crystal clear and flawless with no noticeable liquor taste or odor. Discover how perfectly it blends with your favorite fruit juice or soft drink.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Juveniles Face Hearing In Setting Fires

Two Wiley Ford juveniles early yesterday admitted setting four forest fires in the area around the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

Officials from the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources said a number of witnesses were questioned and two juvenile suspects early yesterday admitted setting the fires.

Investigating the blazes were Lt. Woodrow Parsons, law enforcement officers for the Department of Natural Resources; Keith Taylor, Mineral Conservation officer; Thomas Murdock, district forestry officer, and Joseph Michael, forest ranger.

Authorities said the youths will be taken before the Mineral County Circuit Court at a later date. They have been released in the custody of their parents.

The only reason given by the youths for setting the fires was "They wanted to see the fires burn and watch the fire trucks run around".

Michael praised the work of the Ridgeley and Wiley Ford volunteer fire companies in fighting the blazes. Michael said: "The quick action of the firemen prevented what could have been a major loss in property."

Three of the fires were on airport property, while the fourth was along West Virginia Route 28 between Wiley Ford and Ridgeley.

Michael said a large number of homes are located in this area, and had a strong wind been blowing last night the fires most certainly would have gotten out of control.

The nearby West Virginia area have been plagued in recent weeks with forest fires. Most of the blazes, authorities say, have been set.

Michael noted that under West Virginia law the setting of a fire is a felony and carries a fine of $100 to $500 or a jail sentence from one to five years.

Liquor Board Suspends Three Permits Here

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners held hearing yesterday for four establishments on charges of violating the county liquor laws.

A 30-day suspension starting yesterday was given to the licensees of the Maccabees Club, Camp 18, at 24 Bedford Street, for sale of alcoholic beverages on Sunday and also operation of a gaming device in the form of a tip board. The licensees are Fred J. Hillebrecht, Richard K. and Edith J. Currence.

The Potomac Liquors in LaVale was given a seven-day suspension for sale to a minor. The suspension started yesterday and ends November 27. Licensees are Jonathan Jenkins, Maurice Goodman and William A. Welker.

A seven-day suspension was also given John E. Jenkins, trading as Jack's Tavern, 417 Henderson Boulevard, for possession of whisky. The tavern has only a beer permit.

Following the hearing for Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars on a charge of allowing consumption of alcoholic beverages after 12 midnight Saturday the board held in abeyance its decision.

Bank Promotes Mrs. Shuman

The board of directors of The Liberty Trust Company has appointed Mrs. Frances Shuman as assistant secretary of the firm, according to Denton A. Fuller, president.

Associated with the bank since 1957 and chief clerk prior to the promotion, Mrs. Shuman will serve as manager with direct supervision of the firm's bookkeeping operations.

Prior to coming to Cumberland, she was associated with the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Hagerstown, Fuller said.

She and her husband reside in LaVale. They have two children, a son who is serving in the Air Force and a daughter who is a student at Weber College for Women, Babson Park, Fla.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Soybeans rallied briskly on late buying to post sharp gains Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat closed mixed, while other grain futures were steady to lower.

At the close, wheat was off 1 to up ¾; corn off ¾ to up ⅛; oats off ⅛ to ⅝; rye off ¼ to 1¼; and soybeans up 1¾ to 6¾.

Initial selling of most grains reflected reports of financial difficulties of two large brokerage houses and also continued delay in the wheat negotiations with Russia. Rallying power was derived from export buying.

A four-day selloff in soybeans came to an end today after the cereal opened 7 cents a bushel lower and then soared as much as 13 cents from the lows on persistent covering by trade interests and exporters. Prices ended with 6-cent gains.

Soybean oil sagged in early trade on news that the two firms in financial troubles had been suspended from trade on the exchange and that the New York Produce Exchange had ordered the suspension of cottonseed oil trading. The two brokerage firms were later reinstated on the Board of Trade. The downturn attracted investment demand and oil prices rebounded.

Lack of action on the wheat deal, plus the decline in soybeans, depressed wheat in early trade. Prices firmed on commercial buying, took a second dive and some old crop contracts then climbed back up to score small gains.

Corn steadied as commercial buying offset prompted by the decline in other grains, but ended weak. Oats traded lower. Rye closed heavy.

AT&T's Dividend, Stock Split News Hikes Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—Directors of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. gave 2.4 million stockholders quite an leaborate pre-Christmas present Wednesday and also helped trigger the sharpest stock market advance in over a month.

AT&T, which has more stockholders in the country than any other company, jumped more than 5 points in initial response to word that directors plan to boost the dividend on the regular stock in April, split the common stock 2-for-1 in June and offer new stock to holders of record Feb. 18.

Telephone ended the session at 139⅜, up 7⅜. The stock traded at a new all-time high of 140 just before the close.

The 2-for-1 split will give telephone 600 million authorized shares, the largest for any American company in history, and would mean a payout of $1.2 billion in dividends next year — one of the largest disbursements ever made.

News of the AT&T action came over the broad tape at the lunch hour. Only minutes after the announcement, ticker tapes were running more than 3 minutes late with prices moving sharply higher.

Woman To Speak To Church Group

The Library Committee of Centre Street Methodist Church has announced that Mrs. William S. Brown, Arlington, Va., will speak on "Adventures in Reading" Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the church chapel.

Mrs. Brown is a member of Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, Washington, D. C., and a lay member of the Baltimore Conference. She holds an AB degree from Southwestern University and an AM degree from George Washington University.

Mrs. Ethel Thayer, committee chairman, said the event is open to members of the church and their friends. A tea will be served in the church parlor following the reading.

Small Farms Shrink

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — Farms with gross sales of less than $2,500 — including part-time and part-retirement farms — account for the largest drop in farming units, according to the U. S. Census Bureau. Such farms disappeared by 39 per cent between 1954 and 1959. Remaining farms in the less-than-$2,500 category include institutional farms and Indian reservations.

Learn It Well

LONDON (UPI)—U.S. Marines in Britain who learned how to play rugby to improve Ango-American relations have won 13 of 15 games against British teams this year.

Hebrew is the only one of the ancient Semitic languages that has survived as a spoken language.

Texas Thinks Big

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A sign in the window of a local furniture store proclaimed: "Use our easy-payment plan: 100 per cent down and nothing else to pay."

There may be as many as 70 thousand bees in one hive.

Bouncing Baby Girl

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — A 19-pound baby girl was born to Mrs. Maria Gargiulo, 33-year-old wife of an unemployed Naples laborer. They have six other children.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—What's in a name?

Ask Peter Lorre. He recently spent money on a lawyer to prevent a man from using his name, or one similar.

Any man would go to court to protect his good name. Lorre, the villain in scores of pictures, defended a bad name, one that has sent shivers up the spines of millions of moviegoers.

"I feel my name is my capital," he said during a luncheon of sausage, pickles and bread in his Hollywood apartment. "Of all the things I can leave to my baby (an attractive 10-year-old daughter) is the pride that I was her father."

Lorre's low-pitched voice, a tone that is associated with his villanous character in movies, is as unique as his name.

"I am without a question of a doubt the most imitated man in nightclubs," he said. "I have never sued anybody who imitated me. But it's a different story to use my name."

"Why?" Lorre was asked.

"My special relationship to an audience is a deep satisfaction to me," he answered. "I like people and they like me. For them I could play anything I want. When I come on a screen in a theater there is a silence. That means there is a contact. My name to me is a reward. It means to me everything that encompasses me in relationship to others."

Despite Peter's spooky professional reputation, he has many friends in Hollywood and other places. During a conversation with Lorre, the talented actor will discuss a wide range of subjects, from psychiatry to professional football.

In recent years Lorre's movie roles have had a touch of humor mixed with the sinister. Where once his victims died with the look of terror on their faces, they now die laughing. He's been a befuddled villain in some movies.

In his latest film "Comedy of Terrors," Lorre has a fleeting romance with a lady who plays the wife of co - star Vincent Price.

The romance fizzles. But at least Lorre is one of the few screen villains who can say, "It's better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

May Purchase Firm

BOSTON (UPI) — Berkshire Frocks, Inc., of Boston, has obtained a 12-month option to purchase Pollak Brothers, Inc., of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The Fort Wayne firm manufactures dresses, smock and dusters. Its current annual volume is $3 million.

Latest Travel Gimmick: Lonely Hearts Cruise

ROTTERDAM, Holland (AP)—The first experiment in organized shipboard romances was a "lonely hearts" cruise for five days to Britain and Spain on the Holland - America liner "Statendam."

On board was a group of 45 spinsters and 41 bachelors attending the 10th World Congress of Singletons, and the first one held at sea. Most of the passengers were Dutch, but one woman was from Ohio and bachelors came from Britain, Belgium, and West Germany.

An official of the shipping line commented at the end of the cruise: "We cannot say whether there have been any results. It's too early yet."

Falconry, like archery, goes far back into antiquity. Chinese appear to have practiced the sport some 2,000 years ago.

Expands Facilities

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UPI)—Republic Steel Corp. said its Truscon plants here and in Niles, Ohio.

The Niles plant will get new equipment for the production of joists and two new types of steel doors for residential use. The Youngstown unit will get a new two-color, 62-inch tandem painting line and a new 36-inch roofdeck roll-forming line.

Copper often is found in nature in a pure state, having all the characteristics of the smelted metal.

Powder Plant Sold

WAYNE, N.J. (UPI)—American Cyanamid Co. announced Tuesday it has contracted to sell its Springville, Utah, explosives plant to Trojan Powder Co. of Allentown, Pa.

Terms of the sale were not disclosed. American Cyanamid said it will continue to supply explosives to the Salt Lake City area from its other powder facilities.

The violin, considered by many to be the most important instrument in a modern orchestra, was not really perfected until the 17th century.

Potomac Valley Firemen To Meet

KEYSER — The monthly meeting of the Potomac Valley Firemen's Association will be held in Moorefield tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Raymond Lee, secretary, will report on the two-day fire prevention school held at West Virginia University November 14-15.

A report will be given also on the fire school advisory committee meeting which was held last Friday. The report concerns all firemen in this area in regard to the course now being offered and those planned for the future.

It will deal, also, with activities of the state fire marshal's office and laws proposed for both state and federal governments concerning volunteer firemen.

All companies have been urged to have representatives at the meeting, the last until January because of the holiday season.

Area Apple Crop Demand Variable

MARTINSBURG, W.Va., (AP) —Apple demand has been quite variable at Appalachian shipping points this week, says the Federal-State Market News Service.

Best demand has been for best quality stock, and in some cases, prices have advanced. There is no general weakness in the apple market except for stock which is inferior.

The service said export movement of apples has been only fair this year compared with 1962. More of the apples are going to South America than to Europe.

Permission Given For Decorations

Residents of the Maryland Avenue-Williams Street area have been granted permission to decorate the Williams-Maryland intersection for the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game between Fort Hill and Allegany high schools.

Thomas McConnell, 534 Maryland Avenue, in a letter to council said decorations will not be installed until 7 a.m. and those assisting will be closely-supervised.

Permission was granted under jurisdiction of the Police Department.

The rivalry between the two schools has been pointed up in the past by the use of football and other figures and liberal use of streamers overhead in the red and white and blue and white colors of the two schools.

Doctors, Lawyers To Meet Tonight

A joint meeting of the Allegany County Bar Association and the Allegany County Medical Society will be held today at 6:30 p.m. at the Cumberland Country Club.

Following a dinner the two professional groups will view two films concerning medico - legal problems, which have been produced for the American Medical Association.

Delayed Degree

WILLMAR, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. Oscar E. Hedin, 70, has just completed requirements for a bachelor of science degree at St. Cloud Normal School — more than a half century after beginning her studies there. In 1913 she finished a two year course at the school which qualified her as an elementary teacher.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 17-year-old girl whose problem is probably shared by millions of teen-agers. I refer to parents who have terrible arguments in front of their children.

I once read that arguing is good for people because it allows them to let off steam and release tension. Well, it may release tension for those who are doing the arguing, but it CREATES tension for kids who have to listen.

I have listened to my parents fight ever since I was old enough to understand words. Their arguments follow a pattern. One will start picking on the other over some trifle. Finally it builds up to a horrible, name-calling battle. The fight ends when my mother slams the bedroom door and locks it — or my father walks out of the house.

Don't parents realize it is impossible for children to have any respect for them if they don't have any respect for each other?

Please print this letter for the benefit of all the parents in this country who think their arguments are private affairs. Let them know their fights affect everybody within hearing distance. — SHOOK

DEAR SHOOK: For years I've been crusading against parental fights in the presence of children.

Every couple, no matter how well mated, is bound to hit on differences of opinion. Civilized, mature adults resolve their differences in private. Calling names and hurling insults is destructive and it solves nothing.

I am delighted you wrote so that parents can see how their brawling looks from the peanut gallery. Many thanks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago a chemistry student gave my son a test tube filled with crystals that would "take care of" cats. We have always had a surplus of cats in our neighborhood and their yowling at night is a nuisance, but I could never bring myself to use the poison. So I locked the test tube in a chest which is in the basement.

The other evening I saw a TV show that scared me half to death. The show dealt with cyanide poisoning. Now I want more than ever to get rid of that test tube but I don't know how.

If I throw it into the toilet the poison would go through the sewage purifying plant and eventually into the natural waterways. I can't burn it because it may produce deadly fumes. If I hand it over to the police I may get into trouble.

I can't sleep nights because of this problem. If you can help me I will be forever grateful. — THE SAN FRANCISCO SHAKES

DEAR SHAKES: I have checked with my authorities on poisonous chemical substances and they tell me you should give this test tube to any pharmacist. He will dispose of it as he does other poisonous substances. And in the future don't accept anything for cats which you wouldn't pour over your own breakfast cereal.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

• What Neutrality In Cambodia?

Termination of U.S. economic aid combined with withdrawal of American military advisers from a nation pledged to neutrality and independence? In Cambodia's case—where the aid and the advisers are being booted out—it represents defeat for the United States.

The neutrality Prince Sihanouk proclaims for Cambodia would appear convincing only if he were also to terminate aid from Red China and the Soviet Union. No such intention has been announced.

Instead, the prince is welcoming Chinese communist advisers to guide a program of "advanced socialism and state control." Businesses engaged in international commerce already have been nationalized and banks are scheduled to follow by next June.

Military implications of Cambodia's leftward drift are even more serious. Bordered by Thailand, Laos and Viet Nam, Cambodia presents an ideal staging area for communist infiltrators. This has been the basis of Thailand's and South Viet Nam's quarrels with Cambodia in the past.

These quarrels are not likely to lessen now.

Puzzling 'Dropout' Problem

It was a high school guidance counselor speaking on the subject of school "dropouts." He had attended a meeting of guidance counselors from all over the New England area, held in Hartford, Conn., and he had been impressed more by what he had heard in the corridors than anything that had been said officially.

The official attitude is, of course, that "dropouts" are to be deplored. And the usual answer to the problem is that "there ought to be a law" compelling all 'teen-agers to remain in high school until they have received diplomas. How else, so the official line runs, will 'teen-agers be rendered capable of holding jobs in an economy that requires less and less crude muscle power as it becomes more automated?

"This lumping of all dropouts into one category," said the dissident guidance counselor, "obscures all the difficulties. It keeps people from breaking the problem down into its components. The truth is that it is not even necessarily a good thing to keep everybody in school until the arbitrary age of sixteen. Some people only learn to become mature through experience. It does no good to force such boys and girls to remain in school, which is a place that perpetuates immaturity by taking away from kids the necessity of making their own decisions.

"The dropout problem," so the dissident guidance counselor continued, "has two salient phases. There is one group of kids who range from average to excellent in intelligence. They quit school because they are bored, or because their parents don't care, or because they see chances to go to work and earn money. These kids should be kept in school by persuasion, if possible. But if a boy quits school at the age of sixteen for a job or decides to go into the armed forces before he has a diploma, and then discovers through experience in the real world that he wants to go back to school for more education, why should it be considered a calamity that he dropped out as a 'teen-ager? His experience may have been the very thing he needed to bring him to a mature comprehension of the value of an education.

"The second big group of dropouts," so the guidance counselor went on, "consists of kids who, in the old days, belonged to a category that was never considered to be high school material. In the effort to keep such kids in school after the age of sixteen we now provide all sorts of special courses.

The diplomas they get are meaningless—save for the fact that personnel directors in industries tend to accept them at face value and hence may discriminate against intelligent dropouts who might actually do a better job if they could only get themselves hired.

The members of the second group of dropouts are the low average boys and girls who, from junior high school years up to the age of sixteen, are carried along in special courses, in shop work and the like, without ever getting any real benefits from the teaching. To them, school has always been a place for failure. They break the machines, they get their hands cut, and they do a lot of harm to the real students by taking up the teachers' time.

"I realize," said the guidance counselor, "that to analyze the problem is not to solve it. Maybe we need some sort of 'work group' approach to the situation—you know, a revival of the conservation corps idea. In any case, there's no sense in being pressured by the government into accepting the point of view of the employment agencies. They want to keep kids in school just to get them off the job market. This is the truant officer's way of looking at things. The routine truant officer doesn't care whether the school is able to do anything for a kid or not.

"Well, I haven't solved the problem," concluded the skeptical guidance counselor. "But you can't push on a string, and you can't force anybody to be mature by keeping him from getting his nose rubbed in experience."

FDA Approves Use Of Irradiation For Preservation Of Some Foods

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Radioactivity, which kills men, cattle, all living things in war, will soon be the means of preserving food for millions of people to eat.

The Food and Drug Administration has already approved the use of a revolutionary form of irradiation for preserving bacon and wheat. The latter is to prevent insect infectation which destroys about one-fourth of wheat shipped through the tropics.

Food and Drug also has applications for the use of irradiation to preserve citrus fruit and prevent potatoes from sprouting.

The Atomic Energy Commission and Army Ordnance have been working on the preservation of other foods and believe it's already possible to preserve such foods as bacon, ham, pork, chicken, and beef in a wholesome state for as long as two years. Irradiated shrimp, haddock, peaches, oranges, strawberries, chicken, and other foods will taste just as fresh after two years, they claim.

At present, one out of every four strawberries is spoiled before it reaches the market. Irradiation can cut this by 75 per cent without impairing the flavor. Strawberry losses amount to $5 million annually and the scientists say that an expenditure of 20 cents to irradiate strawberries will save 75 cents worth.

The Atomic Energy Commission is already working on plans to place an irradiation processing plant in the California fruit fields by the spring of 1965 so as to irradiate fruit as it passes through the packing house. It's also planned to put irradiators aboard ships to preserve fish immediately after the catch, and the AEC already has a marine product irradiator under construction at Gloucester, Mass. It should be in operation by late next summer.

Note — Dr. Kevin Shea of the Atomic Energy Commission and Dr. Edward S. Josephson of the Army Surgeon General's office explain that the irradiation treatment leaves no residual radioactivity in the food, that the food is only exposed to the rays without any physical contact between the food and the radiation source.

JFK Opposed Father-In-Law

You have to give JFK a lot of credit for putting public interest ahead of his wife's personal interest in regard to her childhood home on the banks of the Potomac.

Jackie's stepfather, Hugh D. Auchincloss, sold the home, Merrywood, for about $700,000 for a high rise apartment. When the neighbors opposed the sale, Jackie was so irked at some of them that she refused to attend the wedding of Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke if it was held at the home of one of the protesting neighbors.

Despite his wife's feelings, the President has backed up his Secretary of the Interior, Stewart Udall, in bringing legal action against the apartment developers in order to preserve the Potomac palisades. Udall argues that the Potomac skyline belongs to all the people, wants it kept the way George Washington and the founding fathers knew it.

Bob Kennedy's Nemesis

A group of priests at Catholic University, all faculty members with a deep interest in current events, tried for weeks to get Attorney General Robert Kennedy to speak to them. They offered him six suggested dates, all of which he turned down.

In his place, they invited his nemesis Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa, who accepted the invitation and spent much of the time happily castigating Kennedy.

Dr. Murphy's Key

Dr. Murphy will have a lot to say about the nomination of Nelson Rockefeller to run for President of the United States.

The new addition to the Rockefeller family is expected around June. If Mrs. Happy Rockefeller can appear in public radiantly happy with the new offspring, it should help to break down some of the current feminine antagonism. Already her appearances in public have helped.

But if she can appear not only with the new offspring but with her own four children, it would be both a maternal and political triumph.

However, Dr. Murphy, her former husband, retains custody of the four children. Since Dr. Murphy called the tune on the divorce, he alone can decide where they're going to be, and he alone holds the biggest key to Nelson Rockefeller's political future.

Merry-Go-Round

The U. S. courts will play a part in the big Teamster bargaining move for a nationwide contract. Hoffa lost his Supreme Court appeal for a change of venue for his Nashville trial, but has now asked for a rehearing. That will give him a little more delay. But the Justice Department is itching to go to trial in Nashville at the drop of the next court decree — Before the contract bargaining begins. . . . Chester Bowles, the erudite Ambassador to India, came back to Washington for consultations but made sure the trip coincided with the Yale-Harvard game. Chet is not only a Yale man but ex-governor of Connecticut. . . . The new 23-year-old Mrs. William O. Douglas should quit talking to people about the difficulty of living with a genius — her 65-year-old Supreme Court Justice husband. . . . Former Mrs. William O. Douglas is now living happily with a delightful new husband, Fritz Eichholtz . . . Japanese coal mines have changed a lot with the years. In 1922 I was at the bottom of the big Kyushu mine where 400 miners were killed the other day. Every Japanese coal miner at that time was a woman. They were stripped to the waist because of the underground temperature. Now Japanese coal miners are men. . . . Kentucky's ex-Governor, ex-Senator Earl Clements has really gone rural. He is milking 150 cows with a chore boy lactorium in Morganfield, Ky., says he's never going back to politics.

Catholic Bishops' Statement Is Remarkable

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — A remarkably significant pronouncement has just been issued by the Catholic bishops of the United States. Unlike the annual statements of this group in other years, it does not emphasize its own sectarian beliefs but embraces instead the objective of many religions as it reminds the American people of Abraham Lincoln's phrase—"This nation under God."

The Catholic bishops in their statement dealt with the most delicate questions in the relationship of church and state in implicit rather than explicit terms, thus leaving it to observers to apply the expressed principles either to the Supreme Court's decisions on prayer in the schools or to the limitations on government aid to private schools that happen to be founded by religious groups or to many other issues before the Congress of the United States today.

There was no lack of explicitness, however, as the bishops advocated equal rights and opportunities for citizens of every race or color without discrimination or unfairness. This was also specifically proclaimed in a similar statement by the Catholic bishops 20 years ago.

An intimation that perhaps the Supreme Court in the past has been more tolerant of religious expression in public institutions than it is today may be derived from the following excerpt of the bishops' statement:

"The recognition of the right of conscience has been basic to our civil traditions. Citizens have found in this a bond of union and the favor of the law in countless cases. No personal right has been so fiercely defended by public authority and so generously construed in court. The tradition of our nation corresponds with the words of Pope John XIII, 'Every human being has the right to honor God according to the dictates of an upright conscience and, therefore, the right to worship God privately and publicly'.

"A further bond of union has been the general recognition of religious homage to God as a duty as well as a right."

It is possible, therefore, to conclude that the Supreme Court's recent decisions in the school-prayer cases were in the bishops' minds as they wrote:

"The increasing establishment of secularism as an official American view of life has been steady and well marked. In our education, religious elements have gradually been eliminated by judicial interpretation. This progressive secularization cuts deeply into our schools, but this is only part of its steady growth . . .

"There is, it is true, a statistical growth in church affiliation, but this is substantially offset by the disturbing alienation of whole areas—education, work, play—from any effective tie with the creator and judge of men and nations."

In one paragraph, the bishops suggested as "urgent questions" the following:

"Are we coming to regard God and religion as irrelevant to everyday life? Have our relative richness and our passion for technological progress stifled our concern for the spiritual needs of man? Are we trying to solve problems of social justice by expediency, with an eye to human convenience rather than the divine will?"

Perhaps the passage in the bishops' statement that will produce much discussion for a long time to come is that in which the American judicial system is scrutinized. The bishops said:

"Strongly operative among us is the aspiration to establish justice. The courts must maintain vigilance against procedures which offend this cardinal virtue of the decent society.

"But the people must be vigilant, too, lest the courts, however unconsciously and with whatever lofty intent, annul the original determination that ours be a government of laws, not of men.

"Our courts must see that the law of the land is so interpreted as to be free from undue influence of particular schools of thought. It has best served the American tradition when the law reflects a community consensus or common understanding of what is best to achieve the commands of justice."

Does this mean that the frequently mentioned "radical" or "conservative" philosophies attributed to individual justices are being criticized? Does it imply support for the oft-repeated argument that the courts must "follow the election returns" and that the judges must be swayed by contemporaneous emotions? Does it support the theory that the high court should, like a national legislature, be guided by public opinion, rather than be bound by the literal phrases of the constitution itself?

Eminent members of the bar as as well as famous judges in the past have held that the American people should be governed by a written constitution and that it must not be circumvented or superseded or amended by judicial decision under the guise of an "interpretation" which seeks to embody the political consensus of the moment.

Whether or not one agrees with all the points made by the Catholic bishops' statement, it is well worth careful reading by persons of all denominations.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

WASHINGTON — Technological developments in the printing trade are deeply disturbing the U. S. Secret Service. They are making counterfeiting easier and the business is booming.

In the old days, it took an artist long, patient months to etch counterfeit master plates and more long months to print a batch of passable counterfeit bills. The calling was limited, therefore, to those of considerable talent and dedication.

However, in the last few years rapid strides have been made in development of photo offset printing. Instead of plates, all that is required are photos of the material to be counterfeited.

In fact, owners of plants containing this type of equipment have been cautioned by the Secret Service to keep a closer watch on their employes. It seems that some of them have been returning to the plants after hours and using the equipment to do a little "moonlight" counterfeiting.

Another development—fast aerial transportation — is also helping the counterfeiting business. Relatively large batches of counterfeit bills can be run off quickly and shipped to a distant part of the country, or the world, for quick sales before the Secret Service can get hep.

To give you an idea of how things are going, the Secret Service seized $3.4 million in counterfeit bills in the 12 months ended last June 30. Five years ago, seizures totaled $700,000, and in 1945, when World War II was ending, only $59,000 was seized.

New Pseudo-Family

By John Crosby

LONDON.

Ever since I've been abroad I've been searching for a substitute for Dorothy and Dick, my pseudo-family, who used to broadcast on WOR every morning. Aaah, the vicarious adventures I went through with Dorothy and Dick—their problems with the children, the parties they went to, the places they went last night, whom they saw, what they wore, what the glamorous people they ran with wore and ate and said, their little quarrels. It was like having two lives, Dorothy and Dick's and my own, and I've missed them.

Well, I've got a new pseudo-family, at long last, which I read about every day in the Times of London or the Telegraph. "Miss Mary Morrison has succeeded the Lady Anne Baring as lady-in-waiting to the Queen. The Prince of Wales and Princess Anne, who have been cruising with the Duke of Edinburgh in his yacht Bloodhound, have returned to Balmoral."

I thought it over a long time before adopting the Royal Family for my pseudo-family. For one thing the prose style of the court circulars are pretty tough sledding at breakfast. "His Highness the Sultan of Zanzibar was entertained to luncheon by the Princess Margaret, Countess of Snowdon." ("Entertained to luncheon"—mother would have belted me if I talked like that.) For another I didn't think the Royal Family would give me the same sense of belonging, of participating that Dorothy and Dick did. It was a step up socially but a step down emotionally.

I used to get a tremendously vicarious sense of upset at hearing that Dick had used the wrong fork again at somebody's party (as he almost always did). Obviously the Royal Family never uses the wrong fork. Even if they did they wouldn't put it in the court circular.

You have to learn to read between the lines of the court circular. Then you find they're pretty human, my new pseudo-family. "The Princess Margaret, Countess of Snowdon, was represented by Major the Hon. Francis at the memorial services." Represented, eh? Means she wasn't there, overslept probably, after a light night on the dance floor, the minx.

The family, I'm afraid, goofs off, as we used to say, quite a lot. "The Duke of Edinburgh was represented by Rear Adm. Christopher Bonham-Carter." Where do you suppose he was?

I hate to say it, but the parties my new family go to are no where near as interesting as the ones Dorothy and Dick used to attend. The other day the Duke of Edinburgh went helling off to a Boys' Club reception at the Fishmongers Hall. The Princess-Royal went to a luncheon of the Worshipful Company of Skinners, whoever they are. The Queen Mother opened a factory in Dundee. Pretty grubby lot of social events next to the company Dorothy and Dick used to keep — authors, composers, actresses, socialites. No fishmongers and never any skinners. (Dorothy Kilgallen wouldn't be caught in the same room with a fishmonger.)

The real truth is: the Royal Family doesn't get invited out much. Anthony Sampson in "Anatomy of Britain" laid out the full social schedule of the Queen for the year 1961. Four dinner parties in a whole year. My God, I do better than that and Dorothy and Dick used to do twice as well ever week. (The poor Queen, sitting home every night in that enormous drafty Buckingham Palace, makes your heart bleed.)

The days go quietly for those of us in court circles attending concerts, opening factories, saying goodbye to ambassadors, and now and then hello. Oh, once in a while, there's hot news. Just the other day: "The Right Hon. Harold Macmillan this morning tendered his resignation as Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to accept." A red letter day—that one. There are not many.

There is a good deal of injustice around the palace, as where isn't there. The Queen Mother, it does seem to me, gets stuck with all the dirty, backbreaking jobs. If there's a tree to be planted, it's the Queen Mother who gets handed the spade every time. Once in a while you'd think they'd let her launch a ship, for Pete's sake, get her hands out of the dirt. But no, it's always trees. Or opening factories in Dundee. Or breaking ground for old folks' homes. Dreary stuff.

Now and then the court circular gets pretty gamy. For days they bandied news about the Duchess of Gloucester's varicose veins (she had them removed) and I do think Dorothy and Dick would have kept that off the air. I think a woman's varicose veins ought to be a secret between her and her doctor. I suppose, if you're royal, you have to tell everything.

At the bottom of the court circular are the birthdays and anniversaries and I don't know who picks those or how. The other day they had Averell Harriman's (72) and he's not even English. You don't have to be alive to get in the birthday list. Recently they had Mahatma Gandhi's and Marshal Foch's birthdays in there —Lord knows why.

Then every day there is a great event anniversaried, which sets our pulse to pounding with pride. "Today is the anniversary of the battle of Agincourt in 1415 and the battle of Balaclava in 1854." The other day we celebrated the anniversary of the abdication of the Kaisar in 1918. Well, he's one of our cousins, you know, and we like to keep the memory of our departed kinfolk alive.

Role Of Strep Infection In Rheumatic Fever

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

For several decades we have suspected that rheumatic fever follows an infection with group A streptococci. These micro-organisms stimulate the formation of antibodies to which the victim becomes sensitized. The ensuing auto-immune reaction is responsible for joint changes and heart damage. These persons become allergic to substances manufactured by their own body.

The cause of rheumatic fever is fairly well established but it took years to prove. It is logical because most attacks follow in the wake of a strep infection. This occurs 10 days to two weeks prior to the development of fever, fatigue, and loss of appetite.

It is during this lull that the body is manufacturing the all-important protective antibodies against the original strep infection. But the immune process backfires in youngsters who have an inherited sensitivity to these particular antibodies.

The prevention of rheumatic fever is confined mainly to those who have had one attack. These people are advised to take an antibiotic continuously, to ward off new strep infections. Throat cultures are taken, should a cold develop, to determine whether streptococci A are responsible. If so, a large dose of penicillin is administered. In this way we hope to eliminate the causative agent from the life of a person who has had the disease.

Can the first attack of rheumatic fever be prevented? This is a moot question but the possibility exists. Research is being done to find a vaccine or blood or other test to determine whether an individual is susceptible to rheumatic fever. If successful, we can follow the same prophylaxis as is given those who have had the disorder.

STIFF SHOULDER

T. F. writes: Is frozen shoulder a condition that only women get as they start into the menopause?

REPLY

There is no relationship between the two conditions. If there were, we might say facetiously that the hot flashes would melt the frozen condition. In some instances, neglected bursitis of the shoulder leads gradually to stiffening (frozen) and, in time, the arm cannot be raised.

INFLAMED BLADDER

L. P. writes: Is cystitis due to germs?

REPLY

Infection somewhere along the urinary tract usually is responsible. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on cystitis.

DISCOMFORT FROM DAMPNESS

W. P. writes: Is there such a thing as allergy to dampness? Whenever it rains or gets foggy I ache all over.

REPLY

Weather affects the body in various ways. Aching prior to rain or on damp days is not unusual. Apparently dampness causes certain tissues to swell and the tightness leads to aching. It is not an allergy, in my opinion.

INFECTED HEART VALVES

M. R. writes: After an attack of bacterial endocarditis clears up, is it likely to return with each new cold or other infection?

REPLY

This heart disorder usually stems from a strep infection. Recurrences are common after any respiratory or other infection caused by the same micro-organisms. Prophylaxis also is needed when a tooth is extracted.

NIACIN IN FOODS

Mrs. D. writes: I notice on my bottle of nicotinic acid it says "For correction of nicotinic acid deficiency." What foods contain nicotinic acid?

REPLY

Meats and cereals as well as yeast supply the largest amounts. The normal diet supplies an adequate amount of niacin.

TOMORROW: Puzzling aspects of cholesterol.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Robert E. Sherwood once signed George M. Cohan to star in a new play he was producing. To get his signature on the dotted line, Sherwood had to make a firm commitment with Cohan for ten weeks.

The play, unfortunately, proved to be a clinker, and folded after one dismal week on Broadway. Cohan took his check for ten weeks without a word. Many years later, however, Sherwood, out of a clear blue sky, received a check back from Cohan covering the nine weeks for which he had not played. Attached to the check was a note reading, "Dear Bob: I couldn't go out with this on my mind."

The next day George M. Cohan died.

In a Republican stronghold in New England, an 8-year-old student held up a picture of Abraham Lincoln in class and gravely declared, "This is the president who frayed the sleeves." "You're a bit off the beam," contradicted the teacher. "Mr. Lincoln freed the slaves. The president who frayed the sleeves didn't come along until many years later."

The hard-bitten, tyrannical dean of a theological seminary found this note pinned outside his door one morning: "Tomorrow will be Wednesday, if it's all right with you. (Signed) God."

Piedmont Plans Tree Lighting, Holiday Treat

Merchants, Council, Churches, Schools Are Cooperating

PIEDMONT — The program for the Christmas lighting ceremony on Saturday evening, November 30, was formulated at the Town Council meeting Tuesday evening. The event will take place at 7 p. m. around a community tree to be located on the No. 1 parking lot.

Featuring the occasion will be a treat for the children from Santa Claus, immediately following the program.

The merchants of Piedmont will sponsor the children's treat and entertainment.

Invocation will be given by Rev. Jack Sanders, assistant pastor of Trinity Methodist Church. Mayor Donald M. Mellor will officiate at the turning on of the street and tree lights followed with a selection by the Kelly-Mansfield Post 52 Band under the direction of Joseph Dick; medley of Carols by the Bruce High Girls Chorus with Miss Betty Jean Withrow conducting and Christmas Carols. Rev. Eugene Ruane, assistant pastor of St. Peters Catholic Church, Westernport, will pronounce the benediction.

The street decorations are presently being installed and after November 30 will be lighted on Wednesday and Saturday nights in December until the fourteenth when they will be lighted throughout the holiday season.

Plan Games Party

BARTON — The Daughters of America will hold a games party Saturday at the Junior OUAM hall at 7:45 p. m.

Young Republicans Organize

Among those attending the organizational meeting of the Mineral County Young Republican Club in Keyser on Tuesday night were William "Bill" Phillips, Elkins, W. Va., president of the state Young Republican League; Michael Ruppert, president; Miss Sharon Harman, first vice-president; and Kenneth Lowe, Cumberland, who was principal speaker.

Ruppert Heads Mineral County Young GOP

Kenneth Lowe Guest Speaker

KEYSER — Michael Ruppert was elected president of the Mineral County Young Republican Club during the organizational meeting Tuesday night at Mineral County Court House.

Named to serve with him for the coming year were Miss Sharon Harman, first vice-president; Elwood Hollingsworth, second vice-president; Miss Marsha Robinson, secretary; Miss Barbara Sagal, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Judy Young, treasurer.

Over 60 young people, representing all areas of the county, heard a talk by Kenneth K. Lowe, Cumberland, on the responsibilities of young people in the political field. He congratulated the local group on its enthusiasm and described the need to take a more active part in elections and to become acquainted with issues confronting the nation. He related many of his experiences in the political field and heartily endorsed participation by young people.

William "Bill" Phillips, president of the State Young Republican League, spoke to the group on the state organization and commended the group for its turnout.

The proposed constitution was presented by Elwood Hollingsworth and following some discussion was adopted by a vote of the club. Membership books were distributed and plans for a membership drive were discussed.

County Chairman James Beamer spoke to the club expressing pleasure on the organization and pledging support from the county committee. Also present were Circuit Clerk James A. Dixon and Delegate Paul F. Giffin. Refreshments were in charge of Miss Madalyn Bazzle and Mrs. Dawn Jeffries, of the local GOP Women's Club.

The next meeting of the organization will be held December 10.

Volunteers Winterize TV Facility

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Volunteers spent Saturday on top of Branch Mountain checking the equipment and building of the Valley TV Cooperative in preparation for the coming winter months. The building housing the UHF translators was given a coat of asphalt tar, guy wires were tightened and several hundred feet of cable not in use was rolled up.

Charles Kuykendall, manager of the cooperative, said that more equipment and some parts are needed but lack of funds precluded purchase of the items, as a reserve for emergencies had to be maintained, a requirement of the FCC. The volunteers in the work party were Vernon Webster Sr., Charles Kuykendall, D. J. Ott, Walter Southerly and Roby Dove.

Members of the board of directors for the Valley TV Cooperative are making an effort to collect delinquent annual service fees.

Forest Fire Burns 6 Acres On Branch Mt.

Plant Workman Hurt By Flash

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — A forest fire burned approximately six acres on Branch Mountain Monday but was brought under control by the fire wardens who prevented further spread of the flames.

The cause of the blaze was undetermined but was thought to have been caused by a careless hunter.

The Moorefield volunteer firemen responded to an alarm at the Raygold Manufacturing Company early Friday morning. The blaze was in the dust collecting cyclone where the dust is fed into the boilers, Homer Moyers, who was shoveling the sawdust in the boiler was burned by the flash blaze on the arms, face, ears and the back of both hands. Moyers suffered second degree burns.

The firemen stood by as the blaze was quickly extinguished. Damage was negligible.

To Attend Church

BARTON — The Daughters of America will attend church services at the Methodist Church Sunday. Members are asked to be at the church promptly at 10:45 a. m.

Dr. Anderson Gives Report On New Zealand

Moorefield Lions Hear Talk: Review Civic Problems

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Dr. Jerry Anderson, of the Animal Husbandry Department of West Virginia University, spoke to the Moorefield Lions Club at Hotel McNeill, on pasture and livestock in New Zealand.

Dr. Anderson illustrated his talk with colored slides taken in New Zealand where he spent a year on a study mission. He pointed out that the topography of New Zealand was similar to West Virginia with its many hills and mountains. He showed scenes of the fine sheep and cattle being raised in the land "Down Under", and said that the economy of the county is dependent on the export of lambs and mutton, wool, beef and hogs, and dairy products.

Anderson was most interested in the development of the grasses for the pastures, which are grazed much more intensely than pastures in West Virginia. New Zealanders have been experimenting for years with grasses and legumes, the basis for the raising of the grazing animals. He said the animals never ate grain of any sort in their lives. Anderson also pointed out the excellent fencing on the New Zealand farms. He said that the system of fine fences enabled the farmers to selectively graze the various plots for best production.

Clyde Grimes, vice president of the Moorefield club, presided in the absence of George Ours. Grimes announced the receipt of $25 from the South Branch Valley National Bank as a donation towards the construction of a shelter at the Town Park north of Moorefield. Grimes also announced that a letter had been sent to the State Road Commission in Charleston, as well as to the Keyser district office and the Hardy county offices, endorsing the petition to correct the dangerous curve and the narrow bridge at Durgon, the site of more accidents than any other stretch of road in the county.

L. L. McConnell, president of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company, asked the civic group to endorse an ordinance proposed by the firemen setting up a commission with the power to condemn structures unfit for human habitation, dangerous fire hazards for sanitary reasons or other reasons dangerous to the public welfare. The ordinance is similar to that in force in many West Virginia cities and towns. The Lions also sent a letter to the Moorefield Town Council urging the adoption of a planning commission ordinance.

The Lions will also continue efforts towards securing a county-wide telephone service which would enable county residents to call directly through the Hardy Telephone Company or General Telephone Company facilities.

Guests of the club were Clarence Hartman and Claude Comer from Ridgeley.

Bloomington Branch Bank Opens

Westernport Citizens Ask For Street Project

WESTERNPORT—A delegation of property owners on Front Street here have asked the Mayor and Council to have the thoroughfare blacktopped and offered to pay a share of the cost.

Council pointed out that Western Maryland Railway property borders one side of the street, and that the firm would have to be contacted about the matter.

Cost of the project has not been estimated and the group is to be notified when the estimate is obtained. Commissioner Joseph Alongi commented that council welcomes requests on a participation basis.

The delegation was comprised of Louis Nasser, Daniel Taylor, Russell Fitzgerald, Darwin Stoutamyer, John Taylor and George Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson inquired about having Walnut Street Extended blacktopped and were informed that the street is to be graded as the first step preparatory to paving which is scheduled for next year. They asked that a storm and sanitary sewer be placed on the outskirts of their property between Roberts Street and Walnut Street, a distance of 186½ feet.

Mayor Ray L. Wilt stated that he would not object to a sanitary sewer, but did not approve of putting a storm sewer on any property as this would place a responsibility on the town. Council agreed to investigate the matter.

It was decided to purchase two new tires for the payloader.

Jr. Key Noters Meet Tonight

PIEDMONT — The Key Note Junior Music Club, a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, will observe Parents Night at their regular meeting tonight in the Piedmont Library. Linda Broadwater will serve as chairman of the program.

The subject will be "The American Composer, Stephen Collins Foster". The story supporting the writing of "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Old Folks at Home" will be told and accompanying music will be played.

The hymn for the month of November is "Now Thank We All Our God," by Felix Mendelsson.

Plans for The December 19 meeting will be discussed.

Oakland Sorority Pledges One, Initiates Two Others

OAKLAND—Mu Lambda Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle met November 18 at the Lutheran parish home for the regular meeting and the pledge of a new member.

Plans were discussed for December. The regular meeting will be held December 16 at the parish house, followed by Christmas caroling at Oak Rest Nursing Home and refreshments and gift exchange at Mrs. Leona Wilt's home. Plans for the Christmas party were made for December 23 at 7 p. m. at Cornish manor. Guests are invited.

The president, LaVerna Shaffer appointed a new program and social committee including Carolyn Thomas, chairman, JoAnn Frederick, Judy Stahl and Barbara Jo McCrobie.

June Harvey's church is making a collection of old clothing, housewares, etc., for needy people in their community. The sorority decided to collect old items and each member is to take their donation to June at the office before December 6.

Alice Glotfelty, vice president pledged a new member, Carolyn Thomas.

Carolyn Thomas, Sandy Riley, JoAnn Frederick and Judy Stahl were initiated as new sorority sisters.

Alleene Frost Makes College "Who's Who"

FROSTBURG — Miss Alleene Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frost, 159 Maple Street, has been selected to be included in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

A senior at Frostburg State College, Miss Frost, a biology major, is a member of Sigma Zeta, Honorary Science and Mathematics Fraternity, and was elected to the vice-presidency this year. She serves as a Senator in the Student Association and as a representative to the Student Union. She was Sweetheart Princess during her junior year.

Miss Frost has been nominated for a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship and a Prize Fellowship in the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University.

A 1960 graduate of Beall High School, she was an officer in the National Honor Society, Tri-Hi-Y, Art Club and newspaper staff.

Savory Beef Rolls On Bed Of Noodles

Rolled up inside these tender beef birds is a fruited combination of finely chopped apple and raisins seasoned with garlic, basil and parsley flakes. The beef roll-ups are served on a bed of noodles topped with some of the excellent meat sauce.

Think of all the way we serve round steak. It's truly a versatile cut. Of course, when this flavorful beef is on your menu the man of your house is sure to say, "Mmmmm, delicious!"

Most of the cuts of beef steak can be cooked by a dry method of cookery. This is usually broiling. However, round steak should be cooked with the addition of moisture. Braising helps to develop the flavor and tenderness.

Gentle cooking is the rule. It is the long, slow cooking in a covered contained with a small amount of liquid that produces the finest results.

A standard favorite with round steak is Swiss steak. The meat is braised with onions. Beef birds are another variation. The round steak is cut into serving-size pieces, then rolled around carrots pickles, bread stuffing and braised in a liquid, frequently tomato sauce.

Here's an interesting idea for preparing beef birds. A combination of chopped peeled apple, raisins, minced garlic, basil and parsley flakes is used as the stuffing. The meat is then braised. You'll find the recipe below for these flavorful Beef Roll-Ups,

For more variety you can marinate a round steak. Place the steak for several hours, or overnight, in a marinade of French dressing or a combination of oil and lemon juice with just a touch of garlic salt.

Store the meat covered in the refrigerator. Then braise as usually. You'll discover the marinade imparts a subtle flavor to the meat.

Beef Roll-Ups

- 1½ to 2 pounds beef round steak, cut ½-inch thick
- 1 tablespoon parsley flakes
- ½ teaspoon basil
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ¼ cup raisins
- ½ cup finely chopped peeled apple
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 medium onion, sliced ¼-inch thick
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
- ½ cup water

Pound steak to ¼-inch thickness. Cut into 8 to 12 pieces. Combine parsley flakes, basil, garlic, raisins, apple and ½ teaspoon salt. Place about a tablespoon of apple mixture on each piece of meat. Roll meat as a jelly roll and fasten with tooth picks. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat with seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add onion, tomato soup and water. Cover tightly and simmer 1½ hours or until meat is tender. 6 to 8 servings.

Lime Mousse

(serves 6)

- 5 limes
- 1½ cups granulated sugar
- 2 cups milk
- 2 cups heavy cream

Grate the rind of 3 limes and strain over it immediately the juice of the 3 limes.

Add to this the sugar, stir and add gradually the milk.

Beat the heavy cream until almost stiff and fold into the milk-lime-sugar mixture.

Place in 2 shallow refrigerator trays in the freezing compartment, turn the control to coldest and freeze until partially frozen (about ¾ hour).

Remove from the freezing compartment, scrape down the sides, mix well with a spoon and allow to freeze until solid.

This takes about 2 hours.

Reduce the temperature control to normal and allow to remain ½ hour or so until ready to serve, at which time place in a well-chilled dessert bowl and quickly grate over the surface the thin rind (green part only) of 2 additional limes.

Serve at once with Belgian-recipe cookies or angel cake.

Thanksgiving Ale—clinking cold and bracing: Combine 1 quart apple juice with 2 cups cranberry juice and 2 cups gingerale. Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses. Makes eight servings.

Ever mash a ripe avocado, season it with salt, freshly ground pepper and lots of minced onion and serve it as a dip for corn chips?

Warm Hospitality — Cold Main-Dish Pie

"In hospitality, the chief thing is the good will," declares an old Greek proverb. That may be so; but if hospitality includes a meal, good will implies a delicious one. All summer long, cold Egg Salad Pie provides maximum hospitality.

This delectable dish is big food news for the hostess; the pie comes to the table as a cool, cool main course. Egg Salad, always a favorite for hot-weather menus, is given sturdiness by the addition of unflavored gelatine before it goes into its pastry shell. As for other dishes made with unflavored gelatine, there's no cooking involved — or only the few minutes required to dissolve the gelatine. Then the salad dressing is combined with nippy ingredients, chopped eggs, olives, and celery, the latter to offer a pleasantly crisp texture.

Thanks to the reliable character of unflavored gelatine, there's no risk involved. The pie is simple to make, and each time it emerges from the refrigerator it will have the same airy, fluffy consistency. To add to the pie's attractiveness, garnish with hard-cooked eggs and sprigs of parsley.

All summer long, Egg Salad Pie is the cook's best friend. It not only stars on the company buffet, but is so simple and economical it will take its place on your list of family favorites. Serve with a platter of tomato wedges, top off the meal with a pudding or frosted store-bought cake — and you have the simplest and most delicious of hot-weather meals.

EGG SALAD PIE

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup salad dressing
- 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
- 1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon instant minced onion
- ½ cup chopped pimiento stuffed olives
- ½ cup diced celery
- 6 hard cooked eggs, diced
- 1 9-inch pie shell

Sprinkle gelatine on water in a 2½ quart saucepan to soften. Place over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in milk, salad dressing, prepared mustard, Worchestershire sauce, lemon juice, salt and onion. Beat until smooth. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Add chopped olives, celery and eggs. Turn into prepared shell. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with hard cooked egg slices and parsley.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Danish Blue Cheese Chicken Supper Dish

- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 4 ounces (1 cup) crumbled Danish Blue Cheese
- ½ green pepper, chopped
- 1 cucumber, sliced
- 1½ cups cooked chicken or turkey chunks
- Pepper to taste

Cook onion in butter until soft and transparent. Stir in flour until smooth. Add milk and Danish Blue Cheese, stir over medium heat until thickened. Add green pepper, cucumber and chicken, cook 5 minutes. Season to taste with pepper. Makes 4 servings.

Pot Roasts Worth Test

Many culinary terms are of French origin but they have become well-known in the English vocabulary. For instance, there is "saute" which has one meaning. That is to brown in a small amount of fat.

Another term is marinade, the noun form, and marinate, the verb, which designates the treatment of food in a spicy liquid. This not only seasons but may slightly tenderize it. No one English word has that double meaning.

In this country we have such a plentiful supply of fine quality beef that we are inclined to use steak and even roasts more often than pot roasts. We may be missing some epicurean treats which spices and herbs and the marinade supply. It is worthwhile to experiment occasionally. The family may surprise you by developing an interest in meats other than the standard cuts.

Sauteed Soft-Shelled Crabs

Wash crabs under running water until free from sand. Force shells open by wedging a strong sharp knife at the tail end. Remove spongy substance which is found between the shell and the body and in the center of the body and apron, and wash under running water again. Saute in hot butter in a heavy frying pan over a low heat until lightly browned on both sides. Add more butter when necessary. Serve hot with lemon butter or almond butter sauce or with tartare sauce. Allow one or two crabs per serving.

Sauteed Minute Steak

Heat heavy frying pan until sizzling hot and add 1 tablespoon butter or bacon fat. Sear minute steaks quickly on both sides, lower heat and cook two minutes on each side. Cook two to three minutes longer if well-done steak is desired. Remove to hot platter, spread with softened butter, and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Allow one steak, ¼ to ½-inch thick, per serving.

Blue Cheese Spread

Yield: Approx. 2 cups

- 2 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup flour
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 cup crumbled Blue cheese
- ½ cup (1 stick) butter

In a saucepan melt butter; remove from heat and blend in flour. Gradually add milk; return to heat and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. (Mixture will be very thick.) Continue to cook over low heat 2-3 minutes. Add Blue cheese and stir until mixture is fairly smooth; cool to room temperature. Cream butter until light and fluffy; gradually add Blue cheese mixture. Store in tightly covered container in refrigerator.

VARIATIONS

ONION BLUE CHEESE SPREAD: To ½ cup Blue Cheese Spread add 1 teaspoon grated onion.

PINEAPPLE BLUE CHEESE SPREAD: To ½ cup Blue Cheese Spread add 2 tablespoons drained, crushed pineapple.

PIMIENTO OLIVE BLUE CHEESE SPREAD: To ½ cup Blue Cheese Spread add 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento-stuffed olives.

Corn Flake-Pecan Stuffing A Holiday Delight!

Two can be thankful, too! When planning a celebration with just the two of you, substitute a split fryer for the usual turkey or capon. Clean well, cut off tail-piece and back bone. Dry. Pin wing down close to the body, with a skewer. Place halves, skin side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 40 minutes or until almost tender. Baste occasionally with melted butter. Then place hot Corn Flake-Pecan Stuffing on oven-proof serving platter, and arrange chicken halves on top. Sprinkle chicken lightly with paprika. Return platter to oven and keep warm until serving time. This is a pleasant way for all young cooks to learn that breakfast cereal's multi-faceted flavors and forms lend themselves to creative cookery.

Corn Flake-Pecan Stuffing

- ¾ cup chopped fresh mushrooms
- ¾ cup chopped celery
- 3 tablespoons chopped onion
- ⅓ cup butter or margarine
- ⅓ cup light raisins
- ½ cup chopped pecans
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 4 cups corn flakes, regular or presweetened, crushed to make 1½ cups crumbs
- ¼ cup hot water.

Wash, trim, and dry mushrooms before chopping. Saute mushrooms, celery, and onion in butter or margarine until onion is soft. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Spoon into shallow casserole; cover. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F) 20 minutes; uncover, and bake an additional 5 minutes. Yield: 3 cups dressing. Use with baked or braised chicken. Serve chicken gravy or cream gravy on the side.

Molasses Chocolate

- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup unsulphured molasses
- ¼ cup melted shortening
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- ⅔ cup chopped nuts
- 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Combine egg, sugar, unsulphured molasses, shortening, and vanilla. Sift together flour, salt, and soda; stir in nuts and semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Add to molasses mixture; mix well. Spread in a greased and lightly floured 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes. Cut into bars 1 x 2 inches.

Yield: 2 dozen bars.

Broiled Scallops

When you are skewering and broiling seallops, be sure to brush the seafood with melted butter or margarine before putting them under the heat. If you like, you may season the shortening with a clove or garlic.

Roasting ribs of beef at a low temperature gives a tender, juicy, flavorful oven roast. There's a little work involved, no spattering of fat, and a minimum amount of shrinkage.

Meat Seasoning Hint For Oven Roasting

You may wish to give your sliced oven-roasted beef, lamb or veal a sprinkle of salt and pepper before serving.

The seasonings that are rubbed into the meat before roasting do not penetrate very far beneath the surface.

A glass measuring cup for liquids has a spout, one for dry ingredients has a plain rim.

Let Children Help At Thanksgiving

ADD A FESTIVE GARNISH TO YOUR HOLIDAY TURKEY — Stuff mashed sweet potatoes into shining cornucopias made of super-strength aluminum foil.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Young children deserve a chance to "help" at holiday time. Letting them do so is worthwhile because this way they feel they are an important and happy part of the family.

Here are some suggestions for chores they'll enjoy and that may save busy mothers some time.

Dusting — especially the rungs of chairs!

Polishing, washing and drying cutlery.

Setting the table.

Cracking nuts. Peanuts are the easiest for small fingers to manage.

Grinding raw cranberries in a food chopper for the ever-popular raw cranberry relish to accompany turkey. Youngsters also enjoy mixing in the sugar needed, and usually stir and stir.

Grinding dry bread crumbs in a food chopper for turkey stuffing.

Crumbling corn bread for turkey stuffing. Clean hands needed here, as in all other kitchen chores.

Garnishing. Young visitors at our house adore using tiny canape cutters, cutting out miniature leaves from canned pimiento to garnish the crackers they spread with cheese.

Scooping out seeds from pumpkin or squash. A paddle-type wooden spoon plus fingers help along this work.

Making a centerpiece for the holiday table. Fruit or vegetables are easier than flowers for small boys and girls to handle.

As an extra-special, you can show your youngsters how to make cornucopias from aluminum foil. They'll enjoy filling these with raisins and nuts for favors. Or the cornucopias may be filled with seasoned mashed sweet potatoes and oven-heated as a garnish for the holiday bird.

Foil Cornucopias

For each cornucopias—Tear off 2 sheets of super-strength aluminum foil (12-inch roll) so that they are 1-½ times (about 9 inches) the length of a small fruit juice glass (about 6 inches). Place 1 sheet of foil on top of the other. Placing rim of glass along the long edge of foil, roll the double piece of foil around the glass. Gently crush the portion of foil that extends beyond the bottom of the glass so as to form the tapered end of the cornucopia; curl the tip of the cone into a small ball. Remove glass and place fingers inside cone to mold into corucopias shape. At the opening, crush and bend in edges until one side is shorter than the other, forming the traditional wide slanted mouth of the cornucopia.

Molasses Cartwheels

1 cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup unsulphured molasses
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon ginger
¾ teaspoon cinnamon

Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in egg and molasses. Sift in flour, salt, baking soda, and spices; mix well. Chill in refrigerator 1 hour. Roll out ⅓ of the dough ⅛-inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth, keeping remaining dough chilled. Cut with 3-inch cookie cutter. Repeat procedure until dough is used up. Bake on ungreased baking sheets in a moderate oven (375° F.) 10 minutes.

Yield: 3 dozen cookies.

Chicken Creole

1 broiler-fryer chicken (2½ to 3 pounds) cut in serving pieces
¼ cup olive oil
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
6 chopped shallots or ½ cup chopped onion
5 tablespoons chopped green pepper
½ cup water

Heat oil in skillet over medium heat; add chicken and brown on both sides. Remove chicken and pour off any oil remaining in skillet. Melt butter in skillet; blend in flour and cook until brown. Add shallots or onion and green pepper and brown slightly. Add water and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Return chicken; cover and simmer 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. Serve over rice with Creole Sauce*.

*Creole Sauce

1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1 spring thyme (or ⅛ teaspoon dried thyme)
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 bay leaf
3 cloves garlic, minced

Place tomatoes and butter in saucepan; simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add salt, cayenne and black pepper; cook 10 more minutes. Add thyme, parsley, bay leaf, and garlic; cook 15 minutes longer or until sauce thickens.

Marinate thin small onion rings and cucumber slices in French dressing and serve as a delightful accompaniment to hamburgers. Pare the cucumber and score with the sharp tines of a fork before slicing.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE L'ESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — Well, it appears we women will be stuck with the job of carving the holiday turkey.

Mrs. Sarah Lewis set the example when she agreed to demonstrate her turkey carving technique in pictures for the first book devoted solely to carving of various meat cuts, poultry and seafood.

She shares billing with 13 men, including some leading chefs and restaurateurs, and one other woman, who illustrated lobster carving. Elizabethan wives set a precedent for carving, claims one male contributor to "The Art of Carving" by the editors of "House and Garden" magazine. In later generations, the job reverted to the men, but it looks as if they're pushing it off on us females again.

Mrs. Lewis said in an interview that she carves at her family's meals.

"In a young family, I think the husband should be encouraged to carve. It's more becoming. In the old days the man of the house served the food."

Mrs. Lewis, a native Virginian, said she learned carving as a child by watching her father, an expert. She added that she took up the knife "in the classic situation. My husband's boss and wife were coming to dinner. I served a very rare, tough postwar roast of beef and a dull knife. My husband cut the beef into chunks, and then he swore off carving."

The performance obviously did not thwart his business career—William B. Lewis now is board chairman of a large advertising agency. It did, however, send Mrs. Lewis to a store for good knives.

"Carving really isn't so bad—it's like mayonnaise and other things that look hard but aren't. The most common errors are using a dull knife and not having any idea where a bird's joints are. You can see and feel the joints to some extent."

Mrs. Lewis added that she prefers a long, heavy blade for carving turkey instead of the thin one generally suggested, and she likes slices about ¼ inch thick or slightly more, so that the meat retains its flavor and juices.

Mrs. Lewis' turkey carving technique: Place the bird on a large platter with drumsticks pointing to the carver's right. Cut down between the second joint and the body, push the leg outward with the fork and sever the second joint from the body with knife tip. Remove entire leg to serving platter, divide it at the joint, and cut thin slices downward from each piece.

Press wing tip down with fork so you can see the joint, and sever it with knife tip. Make one horizontal cut at base of breast so slices will fall away easily. Then cut thin slices at an angle from breast, alternating between front and back ends to keep slices small. Spoon stuffing onto serving plate. Carve other side of turkey as you did the first.

Pancakes Get A Strawberry Touch

By GAYNOR MADDOX

For the teen-age set, for Thanksgiving and Christmas parties, or just for the fun of serving a novelty, try these amazing pancakes. Lois Ross gave us the recipe. She is a distinguished home economist and wields a wicked griddle.

Strawberry Spectaculars
(Makes 4 servings)

Strawberry Sauce:
1 1-lb. pkg. frozen strawberries, thawed
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup cold water

Pancakes:
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted or liquid shortening
1 cup pancake mix

For sauce, place strawberries, salt and lemon juice in medium-sized saucepan. Combine cornstarch and water; add to strawberries, stirring until blended. Bring to a boil; cook over low heat until thickened and clear, stirring frequently.

For pancakes, place milk, egg and shortening in shaker or bowl. (If melted shortening is used, add after pancake mix.) Add pancake mix. Shake vigorously 10 times or stir lightly with wire whisk or spoon until batter is fairly smooth. Somewhat lumpy batter makes light pancakes.

For each pancake, pour about ¼ cup batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. For each serving, stack 2 pancakes with warm sauce between; garnish with sweetened whipped cream and sprinkling of chopped nutmeats.

STRAWBERRY pancakes are spectacularly delicious.

Mushroom Tempura

Combine:
1 well beaten egg
1 cup all purpose flour
½ tsp. salt
¾ cup water

Dip mushrooms, either rehydrated or dry, into batter, one at a time. Fry in 2" of peanut oil at 350°F for three to four minutes, or until a light golden brown. Drain on absorbent toweling.

To add variety, serve with Tempura - dipped shrimp, parsley, green beans or sweet potato, using the same batter.

Serve the Tempura with soy sauce, to which you might add a little horseradish for extra zing.

Molasses Peanut Butter Cookies

¾ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
½ cup unsulphured molasses
½ cup peanut butter
1 egg
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add unsulphured molasses, peanut butter, and egg; blend well. Sift together flour, salt, soda, and baking powder. Stir into molasses mixture. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 10 to 12 minutes.

Yield: Approximately 2 dozen cookies.

Easy Entertaining With Canned Chicken Gravy

This elegant and colorful Chicken and Broccoli Casserole has creamy smooth canned chicken gravy as the magic ingredient. Sherry and cheese add extra tang. To complement the dish, serve individual molded salads of cranberries, apples, and walnuts.

Chicken And Broccoli Casserole

- 1 can (10¾ ounces) chicken gravy
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 cup shredded process American cheese
- 1 tablespoon sherry or other dry white wine (optional)
- ¼ teaspoon chervil
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli spears, cooked and drained
- 2 cups cooked noodles
- 1 cup cubed cooked chicken

In saucepan, heat gravy, milk, ¾ cup cheese, sherry and chervil until cheese melts. Dice broccoli stems saving flowerets. In 1½-quart casserole, combine gravy mixture, noodles, chicken, and broccoli stems. Top with flowerets pressing lightly into casserole. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake at 350° F. for 30 minutes. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

East-West Pineapple Beef Balls

Each East West Pineapple Beef Ball hides a pineapple nugget in its center. When they are to be served for an entree add another Oriental touch by combining with crisp Chinese pea pods.

- 1 (13½-ounce) can pineapple tidbits
- 1 pound ground lean beef
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg
- ⅓ cup milk
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil
- ⅛ teaspoon curry powder
- Favorite Sweet Sour Sauce

Count out 32 pineapple tidbits; save remaining tidbits and syrup. Combine beef with onion, bread crumbs, parsley, salt, pepper, egg and milk until thoroughly blended. Cover and let stand an hour or longer. Shape meat into 32 balls, each one with a pineapple tidbit in the center. Heat butter, oil and curry powder together in skillet. Brown meat balls slowly on all sides; drain off any leftover fat. Add Favorite Sweet Sour Sauce to meat in pan. Cook over low heat, stirring gently, until sauce thickens and clears. Add remaining drained pineapple tidbits and heat 5 minutes. Makes 8 cocktail servings, 4 for entree.

Favorite Sweet Sour Sauce: Blend together ½ cup syrup drained from pineapple, ⅓ cup vinegar, ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ⅛ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon soy sauce.

Mississippi Chicken Pie

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken (2 or 3 pounds) cut in serving pieces
- 1 quart water
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon Ac'cent
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups sliced celery
- 1 cup light cream
- ¼ cup flour
- Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
- 1 pimiento, chopped
- 1 tablespoon butter

Place chicken, water, salt, Ac'cent, pepper, and celery in large saucepan with tight-fitting lid; bring to a boil. Lower heat and simmer, covered, for 30 to 40 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare pastry and chill. When chicken is tender, remove from stock. Strain stock and return to saucepan; boil until reduced to 2 cups; remove from heat. Remove chicken meat from skin and bones; coarsely dice and add to reduced stock in saucepan. Gradually blend light cream into flour until smooth; stir into chicken and stock. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until slightly thickened. Remove from heat. Divide pastry into two parts. Roll out half and line 9-inch pie pan; trim, leaving ½ inch over edge. Roll remaining dough for top crust; prick with fork. Turn chicken mixture into pastry-lined pan; dot with pimiento. Fit top crust over filling and trim even with under crust. Turn under edges of pastry; dot top with butter. If desired, roll out any leftover pastry and cut small chickens with cookie cutter. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 30 minutes. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

A tasty dish for Saturday lunch or Sunday supper: French toast topped with heated canned apple sauce dusted with nutmeg.

Vegetable Duo Tasty

This vegetable combination tastes particularly good with fish and eggs.

Savory Peas And Mushrooms

- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons dehydrated minced onion
- 1 can (3 ounces) chopped broiled mushrooms
- 1 or 2 tablespoons butter

Turn the peas, salt and onion into a saucepan. Drain liquid from mushrooms and add enough water to make ½ cup; add to peas.

Bring rapidly to a boil, breaking up peas if necessary. Cover and simmer three to five minutes. Add drained mushrooms and reheat.

Selecting Veal

Many veal cuts are similar to beef cuts, except that they are smaller. Veal is lighter in color with very little fat or marbling. The cuts from the loin, rib and shoulder are called chops instead of steaks as they are in beef.

Love desserts but watching calories? Combine ½ cup chilled cranberry juice cocktail with ½ cup non fat milk crystals. Beat till soft peaks form; add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and ¼ cup sugar. Beat till stiff and serve "as is" or as a party pink dessert topping.

Beef And Pork Will Be Plentiful

By GAYNOR MADDOX

A good month ahead for beef and pork eaters. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that beef production is up considerably over last year. Higher grades from fed cattle are in the market now and prices are expected to be lower. Let's hope so!

There will be lots of pork chops and roast loin around, too, and millions of bushels of apples to make sauce to serve with them. The market experts promise more pork this year than last. So enjoy this different recipe:

FRUITED PORK CHOPS

- 4 pork chops (about 1 pound)
- 4 slices apple
- 4 slices orange
- Dash ground cinnamon
- Dash ground cloves
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch

In skillet, brown chops on both sides; pour off drippings. Place an apple and orange slice on each chop; sprinkle with cinnamon and cloves. Add soup and sugar. Cover; cook over low heat 35 minutes. Mix orange juice and cornstarch until smooth; gradually blend into soup. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Continue until sauce is desired consistency; baste chops now and then. Makes 4 servings.

FRUITED PORK chops are made with a new recipe.

Sardines Versatile

Sardines are often called upon to furnish the filling for luncheon sandwiches, especially when there are children in the family and simple, easy to prepare lunches are appreciated. With Norway sardines, packed in pure olive oil, no extra dressing is needed, but the addition of a little lemon juice brings out a special new flavor.

Don't throw cookie crumbs away. Serve them as a tasty topping for ice cream or for unfrosted pie.

Be Creative—Add Sherry To Soup

With a little imagination you can be a creative cook. For example, here's a new way to serve onion soup. Add ¼ cup dry sherry to a can of condensed onion soup diluted with a cup of water. Heat to simmering and serve in mugs.

Blend one can whole cranberry sauce with brown sugar and cinnamon for an extra special topping on Sunday morning pancakes.

Apple In Your Future Played Big Role In Past

The apple in your fruit bowl links you with legend, while its autumn aroma and crispness beckons you to the spicy, snappy, gay outdoors of today.

What other food connotes the symbolism of the tree of knowledge's forbidden fruit, so irresistible to Adam and Eve, or the mystery of Venus's golden apple that brought on the ancient Trojan wars.

It is said a falling apple sparked Issac Newton's theory on the law of gravity. And everyone knows the tale of Johnny Appleseed based on the life of John Chapman, who traveled 50 years through America, developing orchards and nurseries.

So successful was "Johnny Appleseed," that apples are grown in almost every state today and are abundant here in Maryland, notes Mrs. Judith A. Pheil, Extension food and nutrition specialist, University of Maryland.

"A trip to your market or a ride to brisk, vivid Western Maryland will reveal stands of tree-fresh apples punctuated with tangy cider.

"Whether you buy apples for eating raw, cooking or baking, you'll find they have fuller color, greater resistance to decay and better flavor—thanks to the nation's apple growers and research," says the specialist.

Here are two recipes from Mrs. Pheil that will insure an apple-happy future for your family:

SOUR CREAM APPLE PIE—To prepare, roll out dough for a 9-inch pie and flute the edges. Set aside. Beat together 1 cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons flour, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 egg. Stir in 3 cups diced tart apples. Mix well and pour into unbaked pie shell.

Bake in hot oven 400° F. for 25 minutes. Combine ½ cup brown sugar, ⅓ cup flour and ¼ cup butter. Sprinkle on top of pie and bake an additional 20 minutes. It's good served warm or cold.

OLD-FASHIONED GERMAN COFFEE CAKE—Sift together 2 cups flour, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon each nutmeg and cinnamon, 1 teaspoon salt and 4 teaspoons baking powder. Cut ¼ cup shortening into dry ingredients until mixture resembles cornmeal. Add 3 eggs and 1 cup milk, stirring until smooth.

Pour into greased 8x10-inch baking pan and cover batter with 1 cup finely chopped apples. Sprinkle brown sugar generously over apples. Bake 30 minutes at 350° F. Serve oven-hot.

When you are roasting chestnuts in the oven, put them in a shallow pan and add a teaspoon of salad oil for each cup of nuts.

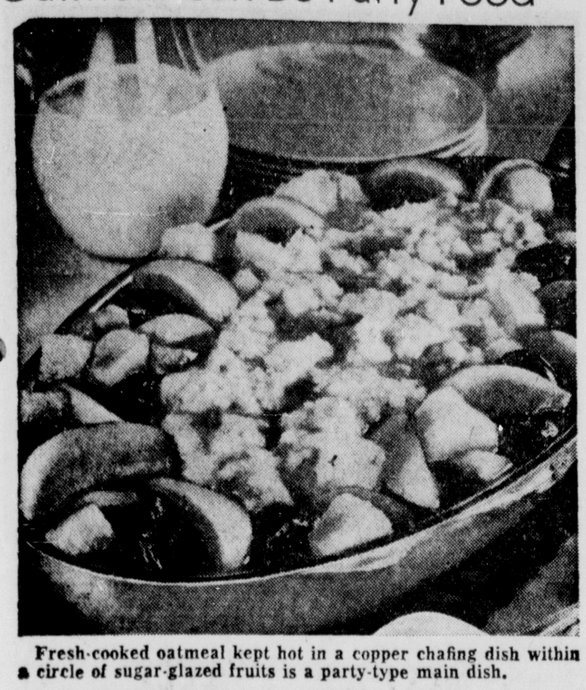
Oatmeal Can Be Party Food



Fresh-cooked oatmeal kept hot in a copper chafing dish within a circle of sugar-glazed fruits is a party-type main dish.

As an "after the game" treat, try serving the well-known basic cereal and milk breakfast. This type of meal is certain to please the hungry ones by replenishing the vitamins and food energy used up in a frantic afternoon at the stadium. Or, how about serving this same treat for a "before the gome" fortifier against the disappointment of losing—or the excitement of winning? It is a really inexpensive way to entertain a group!

Orange juice, in sugar-rimmed stemmed glasses
Hot Oatmeal, with glazed fruits, in a copper chafing dish, with silver serving spoons
Milk, cool and white, in a crystal pitcher
Fresh whole wheat toast, in a silver toast rack
Coffee, in a modern electric coffeemaker
Pretty china; large size real linen napkins

Fruited Oatmeal

2 tablespoons butter
⅓ cup brown sugar, packed
2 cups drained, cooked dried and canned fruits
4 servings hot cooked oatmeal, quick or regular

Melt butter or margarine in chafing dish or fry pan. Add brown sugar; heat until sugar melts. Add drained fruits; heat. Push fruits into a ring around outside of chafing dish or heated serving dish. Fill center with hot freshly cooked oatmeal, cover; keep hot until serving time. Serve with milk. Yield: 4 servings.

Scrambled Eggs With Corn

Corn and scrambled eggs offer a change of pace for a brunch or quick supper main dish. Strips of green pepper add a crisp texture and color.

Heat a drained 12 or 16-ounce can of whole kernel corn and green pepper strips in melted butter. Add eight beaten eggs to the skillet and salt and pepper to taste. Cook as for scrambled eggs, stirring gently.

Sprinkle crisp bacon bits over top and the platter is ready to serve.

New Twist

The "old standby" — cheese and tomato sandwich — takes a new turn when the topping is mellow American blue cheese. Just butter slices of bread. Cover with thick slices of red, ripe tomatoes and top with crumbled blue cheese. Pop into the broiler for a few minutes or until cheese begins to melt.

New Seafood Dish Savory

Lobster, the King of the Crustaceans, need not be reserved for special occasions. A small amount of lobster added to asparagus and celery can satisfy a craving for this popular shellfish, as suggested in the recipe given here.

The savory mixture is spooned into warm patty shells, the frozen variety, which are prepared in a remarkably easy fashion.

A crisp green salad and a simple dessert of fresh fruit is all that is needed to round out this dinner menu.

Asparagus Newburg

1 package frozen patty shells
¾ cup cooked lobster
6 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon pepper
2½ cups milk
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 pound cooked asparagus
1 cup cooked celery

Prepare patty shells according to package directions. In a large skillet saute lobster in 3 tablespoons butter for about three minutes.

Push lobster to one side of skillet; melt remaining butter and blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk, stir in lobster and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly.

Pour small amount of sauce into egg yolks. Stir and return to sauce. Add lemon juice, asparagus and celery, which have been cut in small pieces.

Hearthside Punch

1 can (1 pint 2 fluid ounces) tomato juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 drops Tabasco sauce
4 thin lemon slices
4 whole cloves
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 bottles (7 ounces each) lemon-lime carbonated beverage
Curry powder, as desired

Combine first 6 ingredients in saucepan; simmer 5 minutes. Add lemon-lime carbonated beverage; heat thoroughly. Pour into serving mugs and sprinkle with curry powder. Yield: 4½ cups.

Hot Mincemeat Tarts With Turkey

If you have always considered mincemeat tarts as dessert, here's a big surprise. These Hot Mincemeat Tarts are served with turkey, no less. They have been fixed specially as a relish to go with turkey. They are sprightly of flavor, completely mincemeat-y, yet without the rich sweetness usually associated with mincemeat.

The reason is — canned apple sauce assisted by consomme and dry white wine. The apple sauce, wine and consomme cut the richness. The real, robust meaty flavor of mincemeat suddenly emerges.

A circle of these little tarts on the platter is guaranteed to make any turkey content. Certainly, too, it's a "conversation piece" that will bring flattering comments to the hostess for an unusual and delicious turkey accompaniment. The tarts are not intended to crowd out the traditional cranberry sauce. Rather, they're an addition to the turkey's fun fixin's. Some day you might also serve them with a roast of beef or lamb or pork, and good they'll be here, too. But first, do enjoy these Mincemeat Tarts with turkey.

Hot Mincemeat Tarts

½ cup bouillon or consomme
½ cup dry white wine
1 package (9-ounce) mincemeat
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Tiny baked tart shells
Lemon peel slivers

Combine liquids and bring to a boil; reduce heat. Crumble mincemeat into hot liquid and cook, stirring constantly, until mincemeat has absorbed most of liquid. Stir in apple sauce and grated lemon rind; continue cooking about 8 to 10 minutes, or until mixture is very thick and almost dry. Fill each tart shell with mincemeat mixture. When ready to serve, heat quickly in a hot oven. Garnish with slivers of lemon peel and arrange around turkey on platter. Serve with turkey as a relish or vegetable. Makes 15-24 tarts depending on size of shell used.

Food Consumption Habits Studied

In 1955 the United States Department of Agriculture ran a food consumption survey among 6,000 urban and rural households in all parts of the country. So many facts were gathered that new information is still popping up.

Here are some of the latest items of interest—

A two-person household spends 24 per cent of its food dollars on meals away from home.

Small households spend more per person on meat, poultry, fish, eggs, fruits and vegetables than do large ones.

Only 34 per cent of households with six or more persons get enough of all eight basic nutrients recommended by the National Research Council.

Breakfast Meats

Meat for breakfast is just about the best way to start the day in peak form. Canadian style bacon, regular bacon, ham slices, sausage links or bulk pork sausage, dried beef and "minute" steaks are all tasty breakfast fare and are quick to cook.

Combine two parts jellied cranberry sauce with one part orange marmalade for a relish flavor mate with roast chicken.

Butterscotch, Pineapple Sauce

Butterscotch, as typical of Scotland as plaids and bagpipes, takes a quick trip around the world to join forces with crushed pineapple in an exotic dessert sauce. This meeting of West and East produces a sauce of mellow color and flavor that glamorizes ice cream or cake.

Thanks to butterscotch flavored morsels, the sauce can be made in a few minutes and, once made, it keeps well in the refrigerator. Butterscotch morsels are the same size and shape as semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Like these, they can be eaten as a candy, put into cookie dough, or melted for use in sauces, frostings or baked goods. But they have a flavor all their own, the flavor so popular in traditional butterscotch candy. Because these morsels melt so readily, they need only be stirred into the simmered pineapple to complete the sauce.

Butterscotch-Pineapple Sauce

1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons butter
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels

Put crushed pineapple with syrup into saucepan. Add butter and bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add butterscotch morsels and stir until melted.

Yield — Approximately 1 cups.

Note — If sauce is chilled in refrigerator; reheat over low heat before serving.

Butterscotch-Raisin Sauce

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels
½ cup evaporated milk
½ cup seedless raisins

Combine butterscotch morsels and evaporated milk in saucepan. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in raisins. Serve warm or cool over ice cream.

Yield — 1¼ cups.

Butterscotch Cereal Crisps

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup walnuts
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels
2 tablespoons corn syrup
1 tablespoon water
3 cups crisp cereal

Melt butter or margarine in a large saucepan over medium heat. Add walnuts and cook, stirring frequently, until lightly browned. Remove from heat. Stir in morsels until melted. Stir in corn syrup and water. Add cereal; toss until coated with butterscotch mixture. Drop by heaping tablespoonsful on waxed paper or baking sheet.

Yield — 18 butterscotch cereal crisps.

Sandwich Spread

A delicious sandwich spread that can be frozen uses up those little bits of left-overs. Just combine one cup chopped ham, ¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces), and ½ cup sour cream. Spread thickly on rye bread. Serve with sliced tomatoes, a crisp green salad and tall glasses of iced tea. Makes 4 large sandwiches.

Ready For The Best Peanut Brittle?

CRISP, BUT LIGHT AND BUBBLY—This peanut brittle will melt in the mouths of friends and family of all ages.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here, in our opinion, is the best peanut brittle in the world.

We came on this recipe in the magazine, "Scouting," in an article called "Brittle Budget."

The article reports that three-quarters of the mothers of the boy scouts in College Station, Texas are engaged in Operation Peanut Brittle! In groups of two or three, they make the candy (to be sold) using the cooking pans, cookie sheets, measuring equipment and thermometers, and ingredients bought by the troop. Here, according to the troopmaster, is how it works.

"All the mothers who participate must attend an instruction session before being issued any ingredients. We begin with one session for a few mothers who will repeat it for groups of others. Even novices find they can make perfect brittle after this instruction. The makers of 'the best peanut brittle you ever tasted' also have to attend a session every year, just to assure uniform results. Last year out of 340 batches only two were failures.

"The candy is stored in air-tight tin containers until stapled in plastic bags in 1-pound packages. Several dads do the packaging in a few hours. A couple of nights at the job burdens no one, and the men enjoy working together.

"The cost of ingredients varies. A batch of brittle has run us about 50 cents and netted us a profit of a little more than $1.00 a batch. The Scouts sell about 20 per cent of the supply and the dads the rest. No one ever has reported selling all he could, and many say they could sell more. We are out just to meet our needs, so we quit when we have our budget made."

The College Station recipe in "Scouting" is given in succinct form. So here is our more detailed rule for your home kitchen; our recipe-testing helper followed it beautifully on her first try. The only change in ingredients: the original recipe specifies raw Spanish peanuts and adds a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of butter or margarine at the same time the baking soda is stirred in.

Our helper says she likes this brittle because although it is crisp, it's not so hard as other varieties. I relish this brittle for its great flavor and its bubbly texture. Other eaters at our house don't bother analyzing the candy's merits, they just gobble it up.

Best Peanut Brittle

3 cups sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
½ cup water
3 cups salted peanuts
2 teaspoons baking soda

In a heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil. Continue cooking, without stirring, until temperature reaches 280 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard but not brittle (soft crack stage). Stir in peanuts gradually, so mixture continues to boil. Cook, stirring often and watching closely, until temperature reaches 300 degrees or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle (hard crack stage). Remove from heat. Add baking soda; stir in gently but quickly. At once pour candy onto 2 greased large cookie sheets without spreading it with a tool. Cool. Break into pieces. Makes about 2½ pounds.

Crab Newburg

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sliced green onion
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
1 cup half and half (milk and cream)
½ cup whipping cream
1 bottle (7 ounces) lemon-lime carbonated beverage
½ cup shredded pasteurized process American cheese
1 package (6 ounces) frozen crabmeat, defrosted and flaked
Hot buttered toast points or toasted French bread slices

Melt butter or margarine. Add onion and saute until tender. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add half and half, cream and lemon-lime carbonated beverage. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add cheese; stir until melted. Add crabmeat and heat. Serve on toast points. Yield: 6 servings.

Pears Plentiful; Try Baking Them

There is no comparison between baked fresh fruit and canned fruit. With fresh pears plentiful at this time, take advantage of them. The first nippy days serve this tasty dish of Baked Fresh Pears to six.

Pare, cut in half and core six large ripe pears. Cover the bottom of a shallow casserole with hot water. Place pear halves in casserole and fill each cavity with 1 teaspoon brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon butter, and a few drops lemon juice. Sprinkle a pinch each of nutmeg and cinnamon over the top. Bake in 375 degrees (Fahrenheit) oven for from 45 minutes to 1 hour. Take up the pears into individual dishes. Serve hot or cold with cream.

Sandwiches

Egg and Anchovy—Chop together 6 hard-cooked eggs, 3 celery stalks and 8 anchovy fillets. Add mayonnaise to bind, paprika and pepper to taste.

Chicken and Olive—Combine 2 cups ground dark chicken meat with ½ cup chopped ripe olives, add a little mayonnaise to bind, and salt and pepper to taste.

Corned Beef and Horseradish—Combine 1 cup chopped cooked corned beef, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise or whipped cream cheese. Add a little dry mustard to taste.

Crab and Avocado—Combine 1 cup flaked crabmeat, 1 cup mashed avocado, lemon juice and Tabasco to taste, mayonnaise or creamed cheese.

Egg and Sardine—Combine chopped hard-cooked eggs with mashed sardines and a little softened butter. Season to taste.

Shrimp and Chutney—Combine 1 cup diced shrimp, ¼ cup chopped chutney, and ⅜ cup catchup.

Salmon Spread—To 1 cup flaked cooked or canned salmon, add ¼ cup each finely chopped celery, green pepper and lettuce. Moisten with French dressing and season to taste.

Eggplant Salad

To make a salad of eggplant, place a large eggplant in a moderate (350°) oven until skin is wrinkled all over, then cool and peel off skin. Place the eggplant pulp in a bowl or in an electric blender, beat in for each cup eggplant pulp ¼ cup Spanish olive oil, 2 or 3 tablespoons grated onion, 1 to 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar, salt and pepper to taste. Chill thoroubhly, serve topped with minced parsley. (This also makes a delicious sauce for fish.)

Time To Make Christmas Cookies

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Jingle bells — the Christmas season has begun. Now is the time to plan those very special cookies you will wrap beautifully and present to selected friends and relatives.

Santa's Strawberry Blondes And Choco-scotch Patties

⅔ cup shortening
2¼ cups (1 pound) firmly packed brown sugar
2¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch flavored morsels
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate morsels

Basic Dough

Cream shortening and brown sugar; beat in eggs, one at a time. Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt; blend into creamed mixture. Stir in nuts. Divide dough into two equal parts (about 2¼ cups each).

Santa's Strawberry Blondes

Stir butterscotch morsels into one part of basic dough; turn into greased 9x9x2-inch pan; smooth the surface. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. When almost cool, cut into 1½-inch squares. When thoroughly cool, spoon strawberry frosting into cake decorator with star tip; make rosette on each square. Makes 3 dozen squares.

Choco-Scotch Patties

Stir chocolate morsels into second part of basic dough; drop from teaspoon 2 inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 13 minutes. Cool on rack. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Strawberry Frosting

2 tablespoons quick strawberry milk-flavoring mix
1 tablespoon milk
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, divided
2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine

Dissolve strawberry milk-flavoring mix in milk. Beat ¼ cup of the sugar with the butter. Beat in the milk mixture alternately with the remaining sugar.

CHRISTMAS is incomplete without homemade cookies.

Chilled Soup Is Good Pick-Me-Up

Delicately flavored chilled soup is an inspired pick-me-up any time, any place. For perfect results chill the soups in the refrigerator at least four hours before serving.

Try this frosty soupmate. Mix 1 can each of chilled cream of celery soup and tomato soup with 1 soup can water and 1 soup can milk in a shaker. Top with chives. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Allspice Not A Blend

Allspice is sometimes mistakenly thought of as a blend of several different spices. Actually it is the ground dried fruit of the evergreen pimento tree which is native to the West Indies.

The name is derived from the fact that allspice seems to combine the tastes of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Allspice is a favorite seasoning for vegetables, meats, spaghetti sauce, soups, cookies, puddings, fish and other dishes.

What Is For Lunch?

Nothing in the house for lunch? Serve canned vegetables in a cream or cheese sauce with hard-cooked eggs. Garnish with crisp bacon if there are a few slices on hand.

Optimists Will Sponsor Basketball Team, Sell Trees

Plans to sponsor a basketball team and to sell Christmas trees as a fund raising project were discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Bowling Green - Potomac Park Optimist Club at the home of Edwin Griffin, president.

The club will sponsor a basketball team in the Rec League, with players from the Bowling Green-Potomac Park area. Christmas trees will be sold in Bowling Green to raise money for programs sponsored by the club.

The club will hold its regular meeting Monday at 6:30 p. m. at Nave's Dining Room. Victor McKay, Latin teacher at Allegany High School and tour director for trips made to the West Coast the past few years by area youngsters, will be guest speaker. He will show slides of some of the tours.

Students Pledged To Fraternities

Students of the Tri-State area have been pledged to campus fraternities at West Virginia University at Morgantown.

They include Lawrence Shinnamon, LaVale, Phi Kappa Sigma; John Spoerl and James Willetts, also of LaVale, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Douglas S. Rockwell, Romney, Beta Theta Phi; Lee Judy, Petersburg, Theta Chi; James McCauley, also of Petersburg, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Howard Bean, Moorefield, Kappa Alpha and Thomas Hawse, also of Moorefield, Delta Tau Delta; and William Thomas, Boswell, Pa., Alpha Phi Delta.

Fire Destroys Clothes, Drier

Clothes belonging to a Cumberland family were destroyed last night in a fire which also destroyed a clothes drier unit at the LaVale Plaza Laundromat.

Firemen from LaVale Volunteer Fire Company were summoned at 8:05 p. m. and when they arrived on the scene the fire had been brought under control by state police who used extinguishers.

Some 17 volunteers and three pieces of equipment responded to the fire and it was reported the blaze was caused by a malfunction of the gas-operated drier.

Firemen Receive Insurance Reminder

Members of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association are being reminded they have until November 30 to renew or obtain a $1,000 group insurance policy the association is sponsoring.

Companies with members desiring to renew or obtain a policy are to contact Homer Ambrose, McCoole, secretary of the insurance committee of the association. If policies are not renewed by November 30 they will be cancelled.

Emmanuel Church Plans Harvest Dinner

Members of Emmanuel Episcopal Church will serve a harvest fellowship dinner in the parish house basement at 6:15 p. m. today.

Mrs. Allan D. Macy is general chairman for the dinner. Members of the various circles are donating casseroles. The dinner will be followed by a sing-a-long and a hootenanny.

East Side PTA To Meet Today

East Side School PTA will meet today at 8 p. m. and the theme will be "Music and Your Child," according to Mrs. Arthur Howard and Robert Shipley, program chairmen.

Miss Christina McDonald, teacher of string instruments for Allegany County schools, will demonstrate some accomplishments of elementary students who have been taking instruction on stringed instruments.

A panel of Miss McDonald, Mrs. Margaret Carroll, music resource teacher, and Robert Nutter, instrumental teacher, will explain the school's music program. A question and answer period will be held after the panel discussion.

Room visitation will be held at 7:30 p. m.

C&O To Purchase 2000 Coal Hoppers

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway's board of directors has authorized the expenditure of $21 million for 2,000 coal hopper cars and 20 diesel locomotives, President Walter J. Tuohy said.

C&O has made available to its affiliate, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, equipment valued at $100 million since August 1961.

Bauer Hires Gene Woodling And Billy Hunter As Oriole Coaches

New Manager Looking To Fill Bullpen Post

Brecheen Retained As Coaching Staff Increased To Four

By JOHN T. KADY
United Press International

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — New Baltimore Oriole Hank Bauer Wednesday completed three fourths of his coaching staff with the appointment of ex-Yankee teammates Gene Woodling and Billy Hunter and says he is now looking for a catcher as a bullpen coach.

Bauer said he had talked to several people about the job but as yet had made no decision.

"We should have something final in about a week," he said.

Harry Brecheen is the other coach. Bauer increased the Oriole coaching staff from three to four and intends to have Brecheen, the pitching coach, in the dugout with him during the games. Brecheen had served in the bullpen under 1963 Manager Billy Hitchcock.

Woodling At First

The newly - appointed manager said Woodling would serve as first base coach and Hunter as third base coach, a position held down by Bauer last year.

"The big reason I like Gene is that he is a wonderful hitter and I feel he can help some of our boys with the bat," Bauer said. "He's also good with young ball players and can help with our outfielders. He can help in a lot of ways."

Hunter, who moved up to the home club from managing the Orioles' all-rookie Bluefield, W. Va., team in the Appalachian League, was described by Bauer as "a real smart baseball man" and added "he loves baseball and I feel he will be a good third base coach."

All Former Yankees

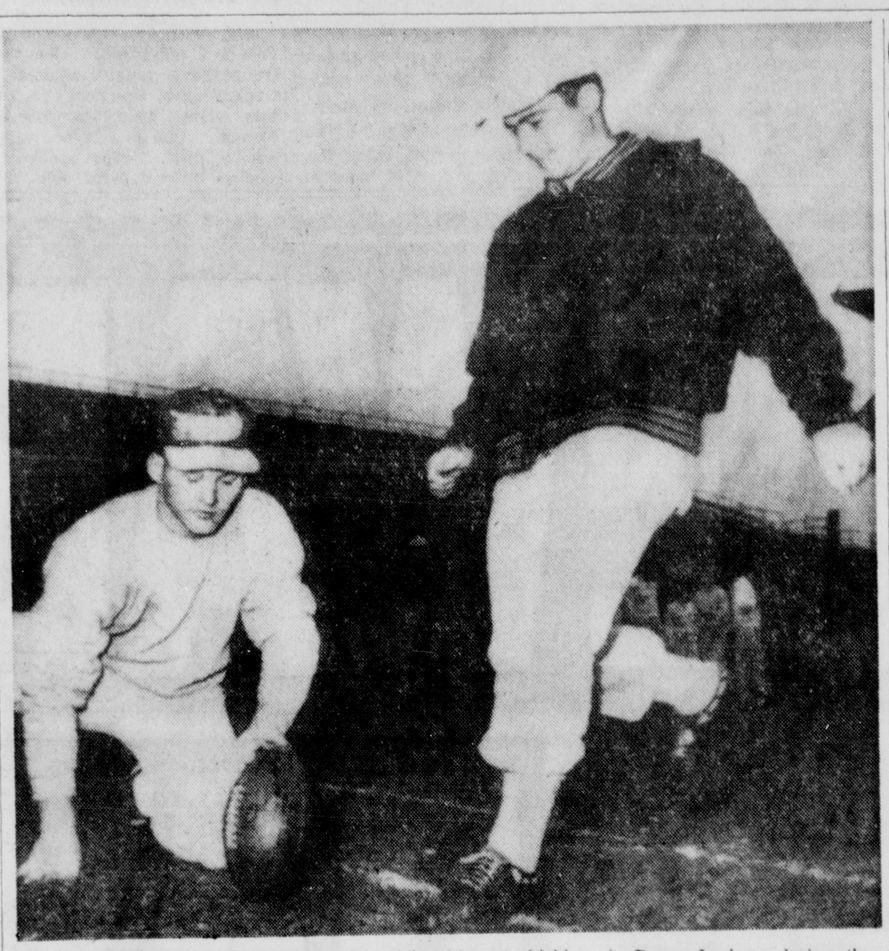
Bauer said Hunter, a former second baseman and shortstop, would also help in giving instructions in base running and infield play.

Woodling and Hunter were both with Bauer on the Yankees and both are former Orioles. Hunter came to Baltimore in 1954 when the old St. Louis Browns' franchise was moved here.

Woodling had his best years in the majors during the six seasons spent with the Yankees and had a lifetime average of .284. He was doing public relations work in Ohio when named to the Oriole coaching staff.

Bauer said Woodling and Hunter were his first selections and said he went after them the day Oriole president and General Manager Lee McPhail told him he had the job.

The Orioles also announced Wednesday that Billy Hitchcock, whom Bauer replaced, had accepted an offer to remain in the organization. He will assume a new position of field coordinator, doing special scouting of players.



BEARS' OFFENSE IS A KICKER — Practicing his art, kicking, is Roger Leclerc, during the Chicago Bears' workout yesterday. Holding the ball is Dave Whitsell, a Chicago back. Leclerc kicked four field goals for 12 points last Sunday as the Bears whipped the NFL champion Green Bay Packers, 26-7, to take over the Western Division lead. He also came up with a key fumble recovery against the Packers and yesterday was selected as the NFL Player of the Week by Associated Press. (AP Photofax)

Sho'men Cage Captains Out With Injuries

Shipway Improved; John Sloan Back

It looks like Washington College's basketball team will not have a captain on the court when the season opens Wednesday, December 4, against Dickinson college. Two co-captains were selected earlier but both are now out of action with similar injuries.

Emmett Molloy, of Hyattsville, the team's only senior, and Pete Magnee, a junior, have both had their knees in casts in recent weeks. Molloy is hindered by torn ligaments in both knees and has suffered injuries in all four seasons he has played for the Sho'men. Magee, a transfer from Bowdoin College, is out with a knee cartilage displacement, resulting from an old high school football injury.

Molloy was the mainstay of the team in early practices and is 6'6". However he will not see the tallest man on the team at any action until mid-December, if at all. If he is able to play, he will see limited action and certainly will not be able to play up to his ability.

Magee, of Manasquan, New Jersey, saw a lot of action last year. With 225 pounds on his 6'3" frame, he became a "sweeper of the boards" and combined this with an amazing set shot from the corner that rarely missed.

The team's tallest man next to Molloy is Glen Shipway at 6'4". Shipway, former Fort Hill cager, is showing a great deal of improvement and more confidence than last season. However Shipway will be up against a lot of towering competitors.

Under the eye of new mentor Ron Sisk, who replaces athletic director Ed Athey as head basketball coach, the team will be relying more on scoring ability and hustle than on board control.

Sick's scoring hopes are built around Rich Carrell, John Sloan and Tom Finnegan. All are fast, deadly gunners with experience. Sloan, a sophomore from LaSalle of Cumberland, was team scoring leader last year before suffering a collar-bone fracture midway through the season. Rich Carrell, a junior from New Jersey, finished the season with a 17.8 scoring average to lead the team. And Tom Finnegan, a transfer from Seton Hall, was ineligible for varsity competition last year but averaged over 30 points per game in J.V. competition.

Under the basket are veterans Carl Schultheis and Shipway, along with promising freshmen Ed Athey and Al Walsh. Magee should be back in the line-up by early December.

Washington College will scrimmage the Alumni Sunday, November 24, in Russell Gymnasium. The first league game will be December 4, at Dickinson College.

Bear's Kicker Leclerc Player Of Week In NFL

Picked On Basis Of Field Goals, Fumble Recovery

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When a team wins such an important game as the Chicago Bears did Sunday it has to be an all-out team effort, both offensively and defensively. Willie Galimore had a hand. So did Bill Wade. Roosevelt Taylor intercepted two passes. Both lines and the linebackers played superb football.

Trying to single out one man as The Associated Press' Player of the week in the National Football League was a most difficult problem. He almost had to come from the game of the day, Green Bay vs. Chicago.

On the basis of four field goals and a recovery of Herb Adderley's fumble that led to Galimore's 27-yard touchdown run, the honors went to Roger Leclerc, the Bears' place kicker and substitute linebacker.

Leclerc put the Bears on the scoreboard with a 29-yard kick in the first period. He made it 6-0 with a 46-yard field goal. When Adderley fumbled the kickoff, it was Leclerc recovering the ball on the Packers' 36. Galimore soon romped home on a 27-yard run.

In the third period, Leclerc stretched the lead to 16-0 with a 19-yard field goal and his 35-yarder in the fourth made it 19-0. The Bears eventually won 26-7 and took a full game lead over the Packers in their battle for the Western title.

This was quite a performance for the 27-year-old kicker from Trinity College of Connecticut. In 1961 he tied the NFL record in one game with five field goals in five attempts. In the same year his failure to make a short one cost the Bears an important game with Philadelphia. Last year he made only 13 out of 27.

When rookie Bob Jencks of Miami of Ohio came along this year, Halas gave him the field goal job. He made his first, against Green Bay in an opening day 10-3 victory, and missed the next nine. Halas turned to Leclerc, who now has made 10 of 18, including four big ones against the Packers. Jencks still kicks the conversions.

Pistons Down Royals, 124-118

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons surged for six straight points when Oscar Robertson fouled out late in the game and went on to record a 124-118 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Cincinnati, which trailed by about five points through much of the game, narrowed the deficit to 111-110 when Robertson fouled Don Ohl for his sixth foul of the game. Robertson also received a technical for arguing over the ruling.

Bailey Howell sank the technical foul shot and Ohl sank two free throws to boost the Piston lead to four points. Ray Scott made a basket and Howell added another charity toss to give the Pistons a 117-110 lead with 3:30 left and they held off Cincinnati the rest of the way.

College Football's "I Boys" Wage Scoring Duel 1,500 Miles Apart

Tigers' Iacavazzi, Falcons' Isaacson Seek NCAA Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two I boys—Cosmo Iacavazzi of Princeton and Terry Isaacson of the Air Force—will be waging a private individual football duel Saturday, 1,500 miles apart.

They will be scrapping for the college football individual scoring championship, which either might grab with a productive touchdown day.

Iacavazzi, the slippery, slashing Princeton fullback, is leading all scorers in major college ranks with 78 points, followed by Isaacson, Air Force quarterback, with 74.

No matter how well they do in Saturday's games, however, with Princeton playing host to Dartmouth and the Air Force meeting Colorado, there is no assurance that one of them will capture the pointmaking title.

Four other players are still mathematically in the running and some of them don't close their regular seasons until the following weekend.

Dave Casinelli of Memphis State has 72 points, a figure he can improve upon Nov. 30 against Houston. Then come Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech, with 67 and a game Nov. 30 against Georgia; Jay Wilkinson of Duke, 66, playing North Carolina Saturday, and Henry Schichtle of Wichita, 62, with two games remaining.

Lothridge, Tech's versatile quarterback, has a shot at two more national records. He already has kicked more field goals—21- than any other collegian during his career.

He still is one short of the one-season mark of 13, set by Ed Dyas of Auburn and Bob Jencks of Miami of Ohio, and he needs seven points from kicking to pass the 55 hung up by Greg Mather of Navy a couple of years ago. Fred Marlin of Navy, like Lothridge, has 49 kicking points.

Lions Sign Cassady As Free Agent

Hopalong Needed As Defensive Back

DETROIT (UPI) — Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, former Ohio State All American halfback, was signed Wednesday by the Detroit Lions as a free agent.

Cassady was released as a free agent from the Philadelphia Eagles early this season after playing as a flanker back.

Cassady is a former Lion player. In last year's trade that brought quarterback Milt Plum to Detroit, Cassady went to Cleveland.

He later was signed by the Steelers and was released as a free agent at the start of this season.

Coach George Wilson says Cassady is nedeed as a defensive back because of injuries to his club's defensive backs.

Cassady is one of the few members of the Lions last National Football League championship team of 1957 who is still active.

The Lions lost two defensive backs last Sunday against the Los Angeles Rams when Dick (Night Train) Lane and Dick Compton both suffered knee injuries.

Shooting Match Set

Chaneysville Volunteer Fire Company will sponsor a shooting match Sunday at the fire hall, beginning at noon. Twelve and 16-gauge shotguns will be used and turkeys will be awarded as prizes.

Cajun Classic Begins Today

LAFAYETTE, La. (UPI) — Luca Barbato, professional at the host Oakbourne Country Club, and Gardner Dickinson Jr., of Lost Tree Village, Fla., tied with 6-under par 66s Wednesday to take top money in the pro-amateur preliminary to the Cajun Classic Golf Tournament.

The $25,000 tournament opens Thursday and runs through Sunday. Barbato and Dickinson each collected $230 for their efforts Wednesday.

Terry Dill, Miller Barber and defending champion John Barnham all had 67s in the pro-am, worth $153.75 each.

Team honors also wound up in a tie, with Lionel Hebert's crew, composed of amateurs Johnny Comeaux, George May and Jim Eads, sharing first place with Bert Weaver's team, made up of Bailly Alexander, W. A. Todd and R. L. Suggs. Both teams shot 55s after handicaps were figured.

Georgetown May Employ Shotgun Against Bobcats

Frostburg State's Bobcats may be confronted with a shotgun offense Saturday afternoon when they close out their 1963 season against a Georgetown University team in Washington.

Georgetown, playing its first intercollegiate game since 1950, will start with a straight T-formation on offense, but the Hoyas plan to switch to the shotgun spread if they find they can't move the ball.

Bob Schmidt, former Southern California quarterback, is coaching the team picked from among Georgetown's intramural league for this special game.

Junior Schuyler (Sky) McGuire, tabbed as an accurate passer and elusive runner, is scheduled to start at quarterback for the Hoyas.

Coach Schmidt is pleased with the progress of his 38-man squad. He's been working them out twice a day for three weeks getting them into condition for the game that has attracted much interest in the nation's capital.

Someone asked Schmidt if he were nervous about the "big" game. "Well, I'll tell you," he said with tongue in cheek, "I'm taking them one at a time."

Pastilong Running Ahead Of Yost

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Eddie Pastilong is still running ahead of regular quarterback Jerry Yost in drills of the West Virginia University football team, but all indications point to Yost starting against Furman Saturday.

Coach Gene Corum said he is working with Pastilong "for experience" and has not commited himself as to the starting role Saturday.

Pastilong was at the controls for the second day here Wednesday as the Mountaineers ran through late drills under the lights on the practice field.

W. Va. Duck, Coot Seasons Open Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia's hunting seasons on ducks and coots will open at sunrise Thursday and continue through sunset Jan. 4.

The duck and coot seasons were among several changed recently by the State Department of Natural Resources as a result of the hunting ban during last month's drought.

The daily bag limit on ducks will be three, with a possession limit of six.

Sport Talk with Troxell by Ted

MODERN ATHLETIC FACILITIES are available at the new Hampshire High School which opens next September, but Romney High School will carry over one piece of intangible property to the new institution in the consolidation with Capon Bridge High.

The asset that will be transferred from RHS to HHS is a winning tradition.

Turning out winning athletic teams has been a habit with Romney High since the school was built in the early 1930s. Pioneer football teams have won six Potomac Valley Conference championships, and their 1959-60 basketball team was the only area schoolboy quint to sweep through the season undefeated.

A successful gridiron era ended at Romney two weeks ago when the Pioneers, playing their final game in the familiar blue and gray, defeated arch-rival Keyser 20-6 to wind up with a perfect 7-0 record in PVC competition and an overall 8-2 mark.

Roger Parker, former Romney High athletic great who has coached his alma mater to two conference titles (1961 and 1963), will move to the new school as athletic director and head football coach.

Hampshire High School is located about five miles east of Romney on US Route 50. It will consolidate the senior high classes of the present Romney and Capon Bridge schools and will probably be placed in the Triple-A classification.

FROM AN ATHLETIC standpoint, Hampshire High will assume a brand new identity. The school's teams will be called the Trojans and their colors will be green and white.

Seeding of the school's football field has already been completed in readiness for the 1964 season. Bleachers accomodating several thousand fans will be installed, and plans call for a modern lighting system for night contests.

The school gymnasium has a regulation basketball playing floor and a seating capacity of approximately 1,000. Don Peters, Romney High cage coach who will join the Hampshire staff, reports that more seats can be added if necessary.

If Hampshire High comes up with a quint even approaching the caliber of Romney's West Virginia Class AA champions of 1959-60, you can be assured the additional space for spectators will be filled.

LED BY BILL MAPHIS, all-time area scoring king and now a regular for the West Virginia University Mountaineers, the crack five coached by Clyde Green rates as one of the greatest high school basketball teams ever produced in these parts.

When the 1953 football Pioneers went undefeated and won the PVC championship, they had to come from behind in the closing minutes of the final game to defeat Keyser, 18-13.

Parker, then a senior fullback, dived over from the three-yard line for the winning touchdown and to this day Roger regards that as "the happiest moment of my life."

Now a successful, popular and dedicated coach, Parker can look forward to many more days of glory at the helm of the Hampshire High School Trojans.

SPORT SMALL TALK . . . It's easy to understand why Romney High School's cross country team had such a sizzling season. The Pioneer harriers' two top runners were Hott (Allen) and Pepper (Lionel) . . . Mrs. W. H. Lough, who died Sunday at Philippi, W. Va., at the age of 85, followed closely the fortunes of athletic teams coached by her sons, Potomac State's Dana G. (Horse) Lough and the late Frank Lough. The latter, who passed away several years ago in Florida, was at one time assistant coach at Muhlenburg (Pa.) College under Ben Schwartzwalder, now head grid boss at Syracuse U. . . . Former LaSalle High and Frostburg State College football standout Jack Gilmore has been appointed junior varsity basketball coach at Sparrows Point High School near Baltimore. A 230-pound tackle during his FSC playing days, Jack wants to get into football coaching. He'll have to get a new teaching assignment, however, as Sparrows Point does not field a grid team .. . After Allegany's Jayvees defeated the Fort Hill junior varsity, 7-6, their final record was reported to be 3-4. According to coach Ronnie Chapman, the Little Campers wound up with a 5-4 mark, defeating LaSalle, Romney, Fort Hill and Beall (twice), and losing to Bruce, Altoona and Keyser (twice) . . . Martinsburg's Bulldogs, whipped 42-7 by Fort Hill, showed their respect for the Sentinels by naming ten of them to their 22-man all-CVAL opponent squad. Selected from Fort Hill were ends Vince DelaGrange and Lonnie Lewis, tackles Mike Patterson and Ed Volk, guards Ronnie McFarland and Fred Timbrook, center Tom Hamilton, and backs Rich Robinson, Dump Wallace and Bob Henry. Allegany's Campers, 14-7 losers to Martinsburg, got all but five of the remaining berths — end Larry Miller, tackles Bob Powell and Bob Harvey, guards Bucky Belt and Joe Chorpenning, quarterback Fred Shank and halfback Danny Darr . . . D. C. Stadium in Washington has a seating capacity of about 50,000 but Earl Moore, a member of the Potomac Valley Officials Association, found out Sunday that, once inside the big arena, it's still a "small world." While milling among the crowd before finding his seat for Sunday's Redskin-Steeler game, Moore chanced to meet a man with whom he played football nine years ago at New Castle Air Force Base in Wilmington, Dela. The two were reminiscing about their service days when another member of the same team spotted them and joined the reunion. One of the ex-teammates, lineman Les Sneed, is living in Baltimore County and the other, halfback Charles Phillips, makes his home in Michigan . . . A member of the Allegany football team that battled Fort Hill to a 7-7 tie on Turkey Day, 1953, finds himself involved in another big traditional Thanksgiving Day high school contest ten years later. Ellis Wisler, a bruising tackle for the Campers under Roy Lester, is now line coach at Washington and Lee High School in Arlington, Va. The Generals, who boast a 7-0-2 record and are ranked third in The Washington Post ratings, face George Washington High School a week from today. G-W has a 7-1-1 mark and is ranked 11th by The Post. Wisler, a native of Ellerslie, spent several years in the Navy after his graduation from Allegany, then enrolled at George Washington University and was a regular lineman for the Colonials.

76ers Whip Knicks, Shaffer Scores 36

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia 76ers took an early lead and were never headed Wednesday night in trouncing the New York Knicks, 118-101, in a National Basketball Association game in Convention Hall.

The winners took a 32-20 lead at the end of the first quarter and stayed on top the rest of the game behind the clutch shooting of Lee Shaffer.

Tom Gola was high man for the losers with 18 points.

Harrier Kidd Seeks 2nd Title

AAU Event Slated For November 30

NEW YORK (UPI)—Canada's long - distance champion Bruce Kidd, "older, stronger and wiser" than in 1961 when he won this event as an 18-year - old "kid," will be seeking his second American cross - country crown in two attempts in the National AAU championships on Saturday, Nov. 30.

The event will be run over the 10,000 meter (6¼ mile) course at New York's Van Cortlandt Park, marking the first time the cross - country championship has been held in New York in over 25 years. Kidd won the title two years ago in Louisville, the only time he has competed in this test.

Kidd, who is pointing towards the 10,000 meter Olympic title in Tokyo next year, has a string of championships and records to his credit after stunning the track world as a 17-year-old sensation.

Kidd's chief challenger appears to be Pete McArdle of New York, who won last year's running in the absence of Kidd. McArdle, however, finished in 29 minutes and 53 seconds at Chicago compared to Kidd's winning time of 32:02 in 1961. McArdle was fifth two years ago and fourth the year before.

Kidd heads the delegation from the East York Track Club which will seek to unseat the defending titleholder the Los Angeles Track Club as team champion. Other strong team entrants are the Boston AA, the Pioneer Club, New York AC, and the U.S. Marine Corps.

Ralston Reaches South Australian Net Semi-Finals

ADEIAIDE, Australia (UPI) — America's Dennis Ralston, the maturing Davis Cup star who has to lose a match in Australia this month, reached the semi-final round of the South Australian tennis championships Wednesday and teamed with countryman Marty Riessen to do the same in doubles.

Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., who just last weekend swept individual honors in the New South Wales tournament and combined with Chuck McKinley to capture the doubles crown, slapped down third - ranked Australian Ken Fletcher, 6-1, 12-10, in a quarter-final match.

Then Ralston, showing no ill effects from the grazed knee which he originally suffered in Sydney and aggravated Tuesday, and Riessen, of Evanston, Ill., whipped Graham Stilwell and Stanley Matthews, Jr., of Britain, 6-3, 6-2.

Ralston meets top - ranked Aussie Roy Emerson in one of Thursday's semi-final matches. Emerson, whom Ralston defeated in the New South Wales tournament, gained the round of four by defeating countryman Marty Mulligan, 6-4, 6-2, after trailing 1-4 in the first set.

Nugent To Coach South All-Stars

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tom Nugent, head football coach of the University of Maryland, was named Wednesday to coach the South team in Miami's annual Shrine North-South college all-star football game.

The nationally televised game is scheduled Dec. 21 in the Orange Bowl.

NFL Campaign Can't End Soon Enough For 49ers

San Francisco's Former Darlings Hit Lowest Ebb

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —If the 1963 National Football League season were to end right this minute, it probably wouldn't be a bit too soon for San Francisco Forty Niners' President Vic Morabito.

After 17 years in the professional game, the Forty Niners have hit low ebb.

Once the darlings of thousands who packed Kezar Stadium every Sunday, the club now is the object of ridicule.

Attendance that in the past averaged between 40,000 and 50,000 a game all season long, is down around 30,000 this season—and probably would be lower except that about 25,000 fans bought season tickets last summer.

The Forty Niners hold one distinction this year—the only club in the league to defeat the Chicago Bears. And that is one of only two victories so far.

It's obvious that there will have to be a rebuilding job done this winter. But Morabito is mum on his plans. He won't talk about reconstruction. He won't talk about draft plans.

Press, radio and TV commentators have torn the club and the organization apart. Some have hinted that Morabito and his partners should sell out and let someone else take a crack at giving the city a championship.

"The club definitely is not for sale," replies Morabito tersely.

But just how much abuse can one club leader stand? He's been blamed for everything — from John Brodie's car accident during the off season that has kept the No. one quarterback out of action most of the season; to the rejuvenation of Y. A. Tittle as the world's greatest signal - caller for the New York Giants.

When Coach Red Hickey could no longer stand the abuse, he resigned and took a job as director of player personnel for the Los Angeles Rams, another losing organization.

Young Jack Christiansen succeeded him at the helm, but the Forty Niners can't seem to get up off the floor.

Christiansen, one of the great secondary defensive players in the history of the National League, has had trouble assembling anything resembling a defense for the prospectors. Some claim that old age has crept up on the club that has been a perennial contender.

Morabito, fiercely loyal to his employees, isn't about to announce any wholesale housecleaning — not with four games still on the 1963 scheduled, at least.

But a complete rebuilding job appears to be the only thing that will save the Forty Niners in 1964.

"Louisville Lip" Makes Gotham New Residence

Army Physical To Be Delayed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavyweight challenger Cassius Clay has changed his residence from Louisville, Ky., to New York, and will take his Army physical examination in New York in "two or three months," Howard Bingham, a Clay secretary disclosed Wednesday.

"Cassius is out on Long Island now, looking for a big home to buy," Bingham said at the hotel where Cassius is staying. "He'll buy a $100,000 home. He has so much business in New York now days that he can't stay in Louisville."

Bingham said he was confident the shift in residence and the later physical examination in New York would permit Cassius to "win the heavyweight title" from Sonny Liston in February, before Clay would have to go into the Army.

Contracts for the heavyweight fight between champion Liston and Clay were signed at Denver, Colo., (Liston's home town) on Nov. 5 for an undetermined date some time in February at a city to be decided later. The city was expected to be Las Vegas, Nev., or Miami Beach.

A Kentucky state draft official at Frankfort, Ky., said Wednesday that if a potential draftee transfers his physical examination to another state, he would have to take his examination at the new location within 10 days.

However, Bingham said in New York: "We have papers from a local New York board providing for a much later examination here."

At Louisville Wednesday the clerk of Clay's draft board said she had been informed that Cassius would take his pre-induction examination in New York instead of in Louisville Thursday, as scheduled.

Marguerite Green, clerk of Board 47 here, said she had not received official notification, but had talked to Gordon Davidson, attorney for the Louisville syndicate which controls Clay's contract.

"I suppose he could still show up, but I'm not expecting him," Miss Green said.

State Selective Service Director Col. Everette S. Stephenson explained at Frankfort, Ky., that any registrant — potential draftee—could secure a transfer of his examination simply by going to another draft board anywhere and applying for it, so long as he had a valid reason.

He then would have to take the physical examination at the new location within 10 days.

Davidson told Miss Green that he had received a call from Clay in New York this afternoon, saying he had applied for such a transfer.

Buffalo To Honor Native Son Spahn

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Warren Spahn, one of the greatest southpaw pitchers in baseball history, will return to his hometown Dec. 2 to receive a civic award at the annual Buffalo Athletic Club (BAC) sports night.

BAC officials said Wednesday the 42-year-old lefthander of the Milwaukee Braves has accepted an invitation to attend the affair. Spahn, a native of Buffalo, now operates a ranch in Hartshorne, Okla.

Joe Foss, commissioner of the American Football League, will be among the speakers at the BAC sports night. Other guests include former featherweight boxing champion Willie Pep and Rip Engle, head football coach at Penn State University.

Sinko Retiring As BU Coach

Toner Expected To Get Position

BOSTON (UPI) — Steve Sinko will retire as head football coach at Boston University this Saturday and will assume a job out of athletics in the "university family," the Boston Record American said Wednesday.

In a story by sports writer Murray Kramer, the newspaper said Sinko would retire immediately after the Terriers' game with Boston College, BU's last football clash of the season.

Sinko, whose team has won only one game this season, was not immediately available for comment on the report.

The newspaper said John Toner, first assistant to Buff Donelli at Columbia University, is expected to be the new coach. The job has been offered to Toner, a former BU star, but he has not accepted the position, according to the story.

Sinko's BU record since taking over as head coach in 1957 is 23-36-3. The only Terrier victory this season was an 18-6 triumph over Holy Cross. BU has lost six other games and tied in another this year.

Sinko's best season with BU was his first when BU compiled a 5-3-0 record. Sinko took over the Terrier reins when Donelli left to go to Columbia.

Tiger Will Throw "Lot Of Punches"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — Middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria said Wednesday he plans to "throw a lot of punches" in his title defense here Dec. 7 and "the rest will depend on how long Joey Giardello can take them."

Tiger, sparring three rounds to bring his training grind to a total of 46 in New York and here, was asked what his plans would be if he lost to challenger Giardello.

"Don't even mention that," the confident titleholder said.

Giardello, meanwhile, resumed training in the same annex used by Tiger. Philadelphia Joey went four rounds with Ike White.

To Telecast Game

The Green Bay Packers, battling for their third straight National Football League championship, meet the Detroit Lions at Tiger Stadium, Detroit, in a traditional Thanksgiving Day game to be broadcast coast to coast Thursday, Nov. 28 on the CBS Television Network, starting at 12:00 Noon, EST.

This will be the second regular-season game between the two teams this year. Green Bay won the first encounter, 31-10.

Famous Nicknames

BALTIMORE, Md. — Several members of the National Jockeys Hall of Fame at Pimlico had nicknames well known to sports followers. Earl Sande was known as The Handy Guy, George Woolf as The Iceman, Ted Atkinson as The Slasher, Eddie Arcaro as The Master and Raymond Workman as Sonny. Steve Brooks, voted in last season, sometimes is known as Hard-Riding.

Shenandoah Double Pays Almost $1,000

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Two longshots hooked up here Wednesday night for the biggest Daily Double of the current meeting at Shenandoah Downs.

Ed's Whistler and Daisy's Beau won the first two races to return $925.80 on the 3 and 8 combination.

Three Akron U. Gridders Suspended For Rowdyism

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Three University of Akron football players were "suspended indefinitely" Wednesday for alleged campus rowdyism.

Those suspended were halfback Joe Richardson of Akron, linebacker Reginald G. Davis of Solon, Ohio, and defensive end Robert Yauger of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

All three are 20 years old, enrolled in the College of Education and are starters. Richardson and Yauger have earned letters the past two years.

University officials said they were involved in an incident early Sunday in a parking lot next to a girls' dormitory. A few minutes earlier, they had invaded the dormitory lobby for a short stay.

The incident occurred after the team returned from Springfield, Mo., where they had lost a one-point decision to Southwest Missouri State.

The three may apply for readmission after being out of school for at least one semester.

Point Trial Set Sunday By ABC

The Allegany Beagle Club will hold a club point trial Sunday at the running grounds on Hinkle Road. Fifteen-inch entries will be drawn at 8 a. m. and the 13-inch class at 1 p. m. Chester Minigh, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., is the judge.

Meals will be served at noon by the club's ladies auxiliary. The public is invited to the point trial.

Set Modern Style

BALTIMORE, Md.—The modern style of riding, characterized by a jockey's crouching low over the horse's neck and with stirrups high, was first shown by Tod Sloan, who was elected to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame at Pimlico in 1956.

Vern Law Going To Pirates' 1964 Training Camp

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitcher Vernon Law, who retired last season, will go to spring training next year with the Pittsburgh Pirates, the club announced Wednesday.

In an exchange of correspondence with the 33-year-old righthander, General Manager Joe L. Brown told Law the Pirates would give him a chance to rejoin the club, trade him to another team or make him a free agent.

Law was placed on the voluntary retired list last Aug. 7 and under major league baseball rules must remain there a total of 60 playing days. He has 54 days on the list from the past season and can be reinstated and made an active player after six days of the 1964 season have passed. However, he can go to spring training and pitch in exhibition games while on the list.

Seven West Virginia Seniors In Finale

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — The smallest number of seniors in more than a decade—seven—will play their final football game for West Virginia University this Saturday against Furman.

Only three seniors are likely to be in the starting lineup and two others in the alternate unit. The Mountaineers will seldom have had more experience than on the 1964 squad.

Bernie Carney at left tackle, Pete Goimarac at center and Jerry Yost at quarterback are the graduating starters. The other seniors are all reserve backs — Glenn Holton, Steve Berzansky, Joel Hicks and Larry Tracewell. Safety man John Burnison finished up at mid-season with a broken foot.

LIGHT SCHEDULE
MONTREAL (UPI) — National Hockey League teams played only a 22-game schedule when the circuit was formed in 1917 Current NHL teams play 70 games a season.

LONG STRING
NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson's unbeaten string of 91 bouts, including three draws, was the longest ever recorded by any world boxing champion for any portion of his career.

Capitol Comment

by Rep. Charles Mathias

News Inside—Thur—Cap Com ..

The Supreme Court decision on prayer in our schools has caused concern for the spiritual growth in America. Because of this concern I have introduced a bill in the House of Representatives (H. R. 1939) to implement the provisions of the First Amendment prohibiting interference with the free exercise of religion. This bill would protect civil liberty and religious freedom, yet does not involve either the difficulties of a discharge petition nor the cumbersome problems attendant on amending the Constitution.

It states simply: "That no officer, agent, or employee of the United States, or any State thereof, shall prohibit, restrain, or interfere with the free exercise of religion.

The bill has been referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Significant events taking place on Capitol Hill in recent days have not occured in the Capitol, but in the marble building of the Supreme Court of the United States just across Capitol Plaza.

Several cases dealing with the question of equal representation in the State Legislatures and in the House of Representatives itself are being considered.

Maryland has figured in one of these cases—that which involves the question of wheather or not a State Senate should be apportioned on the basis of population or on geography or on other factors.

The arguments before the Supreme Court have been a review of the progress and the success and failure of the American political system. What the Supreme Court is now concerning itself with is the fact that, although we have the right to vote, votes may not be weighted equally in terms of the representation they produce.

For example: there are between 650 and 700 thousand people in Maryland's 6th Congressional District. There are only a little over 200 thousand people in the 1st District. Thus, the representative quota of a resident of the 6th District is only one-third that of a 1st District resident.

The legal question that the Court must decide is whether or not the Federal Constitution with its provision for the equal protection of the laws for all citizens is broad enough to require that we get as close as is reasonably possible to the ideal of one man-one vote. In other words, equal representation for all whether they live in the 6th District or the 1st District of Maryland—or anywhere else throughout the 50 United States.

Equitable Congressional Districts should have been a matter for state legislative activity, but when it was evident that the states were not going to act, I introduced a bill in the House of Representatives calling for apportionment on a per capita basis in the hope that the Congress would set its own House in order. No action was taken on this bill and now we find the Federal Government assuming yet another role in American political life.

I shall await with great interest the outcome of the Supreme Court hearings on this question.

Four major legislative actions were signed into law by the President during the month of October:

1. Maternal and Child Health and Mental Retardation Planning Amendments of 1963 (H. R. 7544)
2. Federal-Aid Highway Act Amendments of 1963 (H. R. 7195)
3. Housing for the Elderly (H. J. Res. 724)
4. Mental Retardation Facilities and Community Mental Health Centers Construction Act of 1963 (S. 1576)

◇ J 3
♣ A J 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	6 ♡	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♣

The small slam reached by North and South is a reasonable effort. When South responded with one heart, the opening bidder's hand became worth 18 points in support of that suit [15 high cards and 3 for the singleton, because it is to be remembered that the North hand now becomes a dummy in support of hearts]. The jump to three hearts is quite acceptable, and the only objection is North's lack of a trump honor. Facing a partner who could open the bidding and follow up with a jump, South realized that his side had all the necessary ingredients for the slam formula. So, without further ado, he bid six hearts.

West opened the king of clubs taken by declarer's ace. With the appearance of the dummy, it was immediately apparent to South that he had more than enough tricks and the only problem was to hold his trump losers to one. He entered the North hand with the ace of spades and led the nine of hearts. East promptly played the four, and the declarer after a moment's thought, put in the jack from his hand.

West was in with the king of hearts and he returned a spade. South won the trick in his hand and laid down the ace of trumps. When West showed out, another heart trick had to be conceded to East and the slam was defeated.

Declarer had made the proper play in leading a heart from the dummy and, if East had covered with the ten, it would have been correct for South to play the jack from his hand. This protects him from losing two heart tricks in the event that East has the K-Q-10 of trumps.

When East follows with a small heart, however, South should play the ace from his hand. This has the advantage of eliminating any guess work on the next lead of the suit. In addition, the play of the ace gains whenever West has the singleton king or the singleton queen. It loses only when he has the lone ten. Two chances are certainly better than one.

Pythian Sisters Hold Roll Call

MIDLAND — The annual roll call of Myrtle Temple No. 2 Pythian Sisters was held at Red Men's Hall with Mrs. Frances Reid, most excellent chief, presiding at the meeting.

Nomination of officers was held and plans for the Christmas party December 12 are in progress. Jingle gifts will be exchanged as usual.

The November 28 meeting has been cancelled, due to Thanksgiving.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the October, November, and December birthday committee.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In memory of our beloved husband and father, James O. Gordon, who died 5 years ago, November 21, 1958.

Do not ask us if we miss him,
There's such a vacant place.
Oft' we think we hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near us,
Though he left us five years ago.

Fire Guts Home In Barton Area

Wilt Family Loses Possessions

A family of four was left homeless yesterday afternoon when fire gutted their seven-room farmhouse on Laurel Run Road near Barton and destroyed the home furnishings and their personal belongings.

The two-story frame dwelling located atop the mountain about a mile off Maryland Route 36 northwest of Barton was occupied by Blaine Wilt, his wife and their two sons.

Volunteer firemen from Barton were called at 11:30 a. m. and asked for an assist from Lonaconing firemen but by the time the firemen arrived on the scene the farmhouse was engulfed in flames.

Stove Is Blamed

Fire Chief Hamill Snyder of the Barton Volunteer Fire Company said an overheated stove in one of two small kitchens apparently was the cause of the blaze.

Mr. Wilt, who is employed as a coal miner, was at work at the time of the fire and Blaine, seven years old, the older of the two sons, was at school.

Mrs. Wilt and the couple's two-year-old son, Wayne, had gone outside where she was planning to pick some potatoes. She said she looked and saw smoke coming from the house.

When she arrived at the house and opened one of the doors she noticed the fire had gotten such a start she felt she was unable to enter the home and save any of the family possessions.

Mrs. Wilt ran about a half-mile to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Bowser, and called the volunteer firemen at Barton.

Fire Chief Snyder said about 11 volunteers took two pumpers to the fire which had such a start they were unable to save anything from inside the home and concentrated on putting out the fire.

Lack Of Water

There was a lack of water supply near the Wilt home and the firemen quenched the fire with water from the three pumpers of the two companies.

Chief Snyder said the volunteers from Barton returned to the fire station about 2:15 p. m. He said the road leading to the Wilt dwelling was so narrow the fire fighting equipment had to be backed up for about 700 yards before it could be turned around.

The Wilt family was staying last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bowser. Mrs. Bowser said she planned last night to call the United Organizations in Barton for assistance for her brother's family.

CUF Benefits Health Areas In Mineral Co.

$25,000 Needed To Reach Goal

Since victory in the 1963 mighty County United Fund campaign is just around the corner, general campaign chairman Walter E. Dyck took the opportunity yesterday to explain the drive's benefits in at least two health areas in Mineral County.

Stating that all participating agencies of County United Fund have always received their full approved budgets since CUF was organized seven years ago, Mr. Dyck pointed to two little-publicized services of CUF agencies.

"It appears that all 28 agencies once again will get their full approved allocations," Mr. Dyck said, "including the little-publicized Maryland Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, and that phase of the Health Research and Services Foundation which directly benefits Mineral County."

He pointed out that ever since the polio vaccine program in Mineral County has been financed by HR&SF, Mineral County has not had a single case of polio.

"Mineral County residents, as well as Allegany countians, too," Mr. Dyck commented, "are also benefitting in the CUF Givers' fight against still-incurable arthritis and rheumatism.

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation has an approved 1964 CUF budget of $4,000 which goes into the research battle against the diseases that plague so many sufferers in these two counties," the chairman noted.

The Foundation spread information to patients, physicians and exposes quackery and fraud aimed at arthritis and rheumatism sufferers. Its primary purpose is research in the hopes that someday a cure will be found.

As for the polio program in Mineral County, Health Research and Services Foundation during the past three years spent $5,018.92 in providing vaccine for Mineral County residents.

Another well-accepted health program in Mineral County sponsored by the Foundation is the quarterly chest clinic with Dr. James H. Walker of Charleston serving as consultant. The HR&SF has during the past three years spent $1,800 on this community service.

Mr. Dyck observed, "When a Gift is made the United Way, the giver can rest assured that needy persons afflicted with any disease or defect can be helped."

As of the last official audit, the seventh CUF campaign was less than $25,000 away from its goal of $394,533.

Motor Corps Volunteers Get Stripes

Future plans and activities of the Motor Service group of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, were discussed at a luncheon meeting yesterday at Fort Cumberland Hotel.

A new course will be held as soon as a sufficient number of volunteers are recruited, since the need for Motor Service workers has increased rapidly in the county, according to Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary.

Mrs. Martin Johnson, chairman, presided and announced members of the Jaycees would serve on night transportation of blood from Bedford to local hospitals. William McKee is chairman of the Jaycee volunteers.

Mrs. Johnson also announced that service stripes will be presented to volunteers serving over 50 hours each year in the Motor Corps. Volunteers gave a total of 732 hours service last year.

Service stripes will be awarded Mrs. Margaret Bolt, Mrs. Ruth Bowen and Mrs. Alice Ryan Frostburg; Mrs. Norman Geatz Sr., Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Gladys Shafferman, Mrs. E. I. Zucker and Mrs. Carl Johnson, Cumberland.

Members of the chapter Motor Service are on call to deliver blood and blood supplies from Bedford to hospitals; transport blood donors to hospitals and to serve at Blood Bank and First Aid centers at community events. They also drive chapter personnel as required and transport volunteers to hospital assignments.

Class D Beer Permit Sought

James W. Murphy Sr., city, has applied to the Allegany County Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for a Class D beer license.

The premises located at 200 South Centre Street are owned by the Wallace McKaig estate.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY

Deer Missed, Driver Hurt

A 17-year-old Bedford, Pa., area youth was admitted to Memorial Hospital last night with injuries sustained in a one-car accident when he swerved to avoid hitting a deer on Pennsylvania Legislative Route 05006, the Cumberland Dam Road.

John K. Ryan, of RD 3, Bedford was reported in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital where he was admitted for X-rays of possible fractures. He sustained a laceration of his face, attaches said.

Pennsylvania police said Ryan was traveling south on the highway and saw the deer on the road ahead. When he swerved to the left to avoid hitting the animal, the car ran up over an embankment, turned over and pinned him in the wreckage.

The youth was taken to the hospital in the Geisel ambulance of Bedford, according to police, who said the accident occurred at 6:50 p. m.

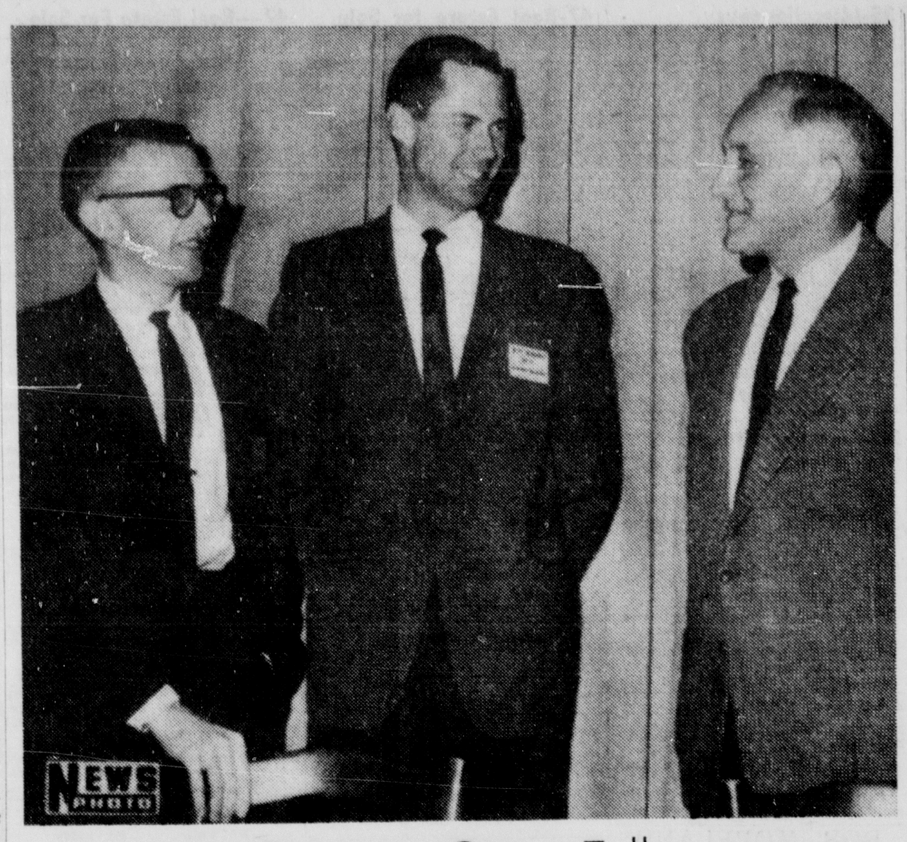
Schools Serve Turkey Dinner Next Tuesday

Some 371 turkeys have been distributed to the public school cafeterias for the special Thanksgiving dinner which will be served in all of the schools next Tuesday, according to Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias.

She expects that about 6,500 pounds of turkeys will be served in the 32 cafeterias next Tuesday. Another 2000 pounds probably will be left over for turkey pot pie the following week.

The suggested menu for the dinner calls for orange juice, roast turkey, dressing, fluffy whipped potatoes, cranberry relish, tossed salad, bread or roll, date bar and milk.

Last year some 14,307 children and about 460 adults enjoyed the pre-Thanksgiving dinner, probably the heaviest patronage of the entire school year.



Forester Gives Talk

W. A. C. Irwin, right, district forester, last night spoke on "Natural Resources Conservation," during a meeting of the Cumberland Engineers Club at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Others in the picture, left to right, are James F. Hansen, program chairman and Richard M. Herman, president of the club.

Three New Md. Taxes Proposed On Gas, Autos

Legislative Unit To Decide Soon

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Legislative Council set the table Wednesday for three new tax bites to be taken from Maryland motorists, with some of the new revenues to go to counties and towns.

Set up for a final council vote next Wednesday were proposals to:

—add one cent to the present six-cents-a-gallon state gasoline tax.

—make the motor vehicle title tax 3 per cent of sale price instead of the present 2 per cent.

—authorize counties to levy their own $5 annual motor vehicle registration fee and split the proceeds with municipal governments.

The council was prepared to vote immediately on the proposals to finance a new five-year road program expected to cost about $575 million from 1965-

It postponed the vote for one week at the request of Sens. Joseph V. Mach, D-Balto 2nd, and Joseph A. Bertorelli, D-Balto 1st.

But it did proceed with an affirmative vote on this formula for distribution of revenues from the proposed county license tag fee: 50 per cent to the county, with the remaining 50 per cent divided among the county and municipalities on the basis of road mileage.

A similar formula is now used for distribution of gasoline tax receipts, with 50 per cent going to the State Roads Commission, 30 per cent to Baltimore City and the rest divided among the counties on a mileage basis.

But all money from the additional penny-a-gallon tax would go to the Roads Commission, none to Baltimore or the counties.

It was this feature which prompted Mach and Bertorelli to ask for a delay of the vote. They said they wanted time to confer with Baltimore officials before voting.

There was every indication that the council, between-sessions screening arm of the Legislature, will approve the tax-hike program at its next meeting and incorporate it into its recommendations for the General Assembly convening next February.

But legislative leaders said the road program to be supported by the raises probably would be incorporated into the tax bill itself, giving them firm control of expenditures.

A move which would have given local governments a bigger share of any county license tag fee was blocked by Del. J. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Allegany, and Sen. H. Winship Wheatley, D-Prince Georges.

They questioned the wisdom of a suggestion that this money be divided strictly on a mileage basis, without the first 50 per cent slice for the county.

The council agreed with their contention that, in some counties this would have resulted in too small a share for building and maintenance of county roads.

Five Area Boys Advanced To Eagle Scout Rank

Three Boy Scouts and two Explorer Scouts of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, recently were approved for the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest in scouting, according to C. E. Stutzman, council advancement chairman.

The three Boy Scouts who qualified for Eagle Scout were Howard Shores, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shores, Keyser, and a member of Troop 27, Rotary Club of Keyser; Bruce Hyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hyre, Petersburg, W. Va., a member of Troop 63, Petersburg Kiwanis Club, and Douglas Schinzing, son of Rev. and Mrs. Albert Schinzing, Petersburg, also a member of Troop 63.

The Explorer Scouts advanced by the review board were Steve Hartle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartle, RD 3, Cumberland, a member of Post 1, St. Luke's Lutheran Church, and Franklin Fitzwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzwater Jr., Oakland, a member of Post 31, Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club.

In addition to the 21 merit badges required for Eagle Rank, the recipients of the Eagle Award also must have an outstanding record in school, church and community activities while engaged in scouting, Mr. Stutzman.

The Eagle Awards will be presented to the five young men at courts of honor to be held soon by their respective units.

Others serving on the board of review were Robert Zarefoss, Frostburg; Ralph Fauber, Oakland; Lester R. McDowell, Keyser; Okey E. Michael, Westernport, and William E. Harrison and Dr. Carl McAloose, both of Cumberland.

Zone Questions Are Answered At Mt. Savage

Final Meeting At Valley Tonight

A good cross-section of questions were asked last night at Mt. Savage High School where residents of the community assembled to hear an explanation of the proposed permanent zoning ordinance drawn up by the Allegany County Planning and Zoning Commission.

Ralph M. Race, commission member, explained the purpose of the meeting and introduced Julian Tarrant, consultant for the commission, who discussed the permanent zoning ordinance.

The residents were told that farms which are now located in industrial zoning districts will continue to be cultivated as farmland under the ordinance.

The procedure of the adoption of the ordinance was also explained. It was pointed out that at least two public hearings will be required, one by the commission and the other by the County Board of Commissioners which will have the final say in the passing of the ordinance.

The distance of setback of road signs and commercial areas were explained at the meeting which is the third of four being held this week in various sections of the county.

Strip mining was also discussed. Questions were answered by Mr. Tarrant and C. Lee Renaud, county planning director.

A 14-page condensed version of the proposed ordinance was distributed to the Mt. Savage residents who showed a good response at the meeting.

Also at the meeting were Carl G. Belt, commission member, and Andrew McMinimee, county planner. The fourth and final meeting will be held this evening at 7:30 at Valley High School, Lonaconing.

James A. Perrin, the commission chairman, has been unable to attend the three meetings because of illness.

Goldstein Gets Support From Tawes' Forces

Comptroller Plans To Run For Senator

BALTIMORE (AP)—Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein received Wednesday a second for his candidacy for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate before he said he wanted it.

The advance move by Herbert R. O'Conor Jr. was interpreted as a sign that those Democratic forces headed by Gov. Tawes want it to be known early they are behind Goldstein in next May's primary.

Such backing would be aimed at discouraging other prospective candidates. For example, Joseph D. Tydings.

Tydings will hold a news conference Thursday morning presumably to announce he is resigning as U.S. Attorney for Maryland.

Goldstein has scheduled a reception next Monday to announce his candidacy for the Senate nomination.

How far Tydings will go beyond saying he is returning to private law practice is problematical.

As O'Conor stated in a news release, Goldstein "knows more people and is known by more people than any man in Maryland's history."

It may not be literally true, but Goldstein's personal familiarity from one end of the state to the other is.

In hoping that the "good members of the party of the people will unite" behind Goldstein, O'Conor was viewed as speaking as the horse's mouth of the Tawes organization.

O'Conor had managed the Tawes campaign for re-election last year and was rewarded with appointment as state bank commissioner.

Another hand of Tawes was spotted in arrangements for Goldstein's reception next Monday. The Emerson Hotel said they had been made by George Hocker, personal friend, patronage consultant and fund raiser for Tawes.

While it was common party knowledge that Tydings was considering running next year for the Senate nomination, reservations have arisen since Goldstein pushed into the picture. Tydings is expected to clarify his position at his conference.

Pensioned Vets To Get Questionnaire

Approximately 23,000 Maryland veterans and dependents of deceased veterans receiving pensions will get an Annual Income Questionnaire with their monthly check later this month, according to F. E. Quinn, regional VA manager.

At the same time approximately 700 parents of deceased Maryland veterans who now receive Dependency Indemnity Compensation also will get an Income Questionnaire with their monthly check.

Those who receive these questionnaires must return them before next January 31 or their monthly checks will be suspended.

Assistance and information in preparation of the questionnaires is available at the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Calvert Building, Fayette and St. Paul streets, Baltimore.

Chorus To Meet

The Queen City Girls Barbershop Chorus will meet Friday at 8:30 p. m., at City Hall, according to Mrs. Shirley Tindal, president.

IN LOCAL PLAY — Dr. C. N. Foose will appear as Ross Barnett in the second performance of "Marriage Go Round" to be presented tonight by the Algonquin Players at Allegany Community College at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets may be purchased from members of the Players.

Appalachian Conference Set Friday

Local Men To Attend Hagerstown Meeting

Alvin H. Wilson, member of the Maryland Economic Development Commission, Robert C. Petersen, manager of Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and Everett G. Partridge, director of Upper Potomac Industrial Development Company, will head a delegation of local businessmen attending a conference on Appalachian problems tomorrow in Hagerstown.

These men along with other Western Maryland business, agricultural and financial and civic leaders will be given the opportunity to propose cures for the economic ills of the ten-state Appalachian Region, and to voice their approval or disapproval of rehabilitation plans developed over the past several months by the President's Regional Commission and representatives of the ten states.

The Maryland Economic Development Commission, in behalf of Gov. J. Millard Tawes, has invited 250 Maryland leaders to attend the conference, which is the last of nine conducted in the region by the President's Commission.

Governor Tawes will welcome the party of federal administrators led by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., Undersecretary of Commerce and chairman of the President's Commission. Harry A. Boswell Jr., chairman of the state commission will introduce Gov. Tawes.

The conference will convene in the Alexander Hotel at 10 a. m. After the opening session, seven workshops groups will be formed to discuss the many aspects of the area's problems and opportunities.

Findings and recommendations of the groups will be summarized at a second general session. The teams will report on highways and transportation, water resources, timber and agriculture, coal and power, recreation, human resources and an Appalachian Center.

Local Resident Shown In Peace Corps Magazine

The picture caption notes that "Petite Riviere" is no obstacle to Volunteer Beverly Bowie as she assists a young charge across stream during summer youth camp at Ifrane in Middle Atlas mountains.

Miss Bowie is serving in Rabat, Morocco, and was sent congratulations by Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. who said "It is my firm belief that the interchange of ideas, the assistance rendered and the transference of knowledge of the peoples of other countries by our American youth is a very important factor in promoting understanding. . ."

Mrs. Eaton To Address West Side PTA Tonight

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias in the Allegany County public schools, will discuss nutrition for school children at the meeting of the West Side School PTA tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

Douglas Golliday, PTA president, said there will be room visitation from 7 until 7:30 p. m. This will give teachers an opportunity to discuss the program of their respective classes.

The business meeting is scheduled from 7:30 until 8:15 p. m. The program, in charge of Mrs. Woodrow W. Gurley, will be from 8:15 until 8:45 p. m. and refreshments and a social period will follow.

Intruder Tries To Enter Home

L. H. Shafferman, 1116 Bedford Street, reported to city police Monday that an attempt to break into the home was made during the night.

He said the intruder climbed a wall to get on the rear porch and then punched holes in two window screens but did not break the glass.

56 Area Seniors Vie For PPG Scholarship

Winner May Get Up To $6,000 Grant

Fifty-six senior boys and girls from 11 high schools in the Cumberland area have filed applications for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Foundation's four-year scholarship being offered here for the second straight year, according to Walter E. Dyck, manager of PPG's Works Seven and agent for the Foundation.

Students competing for the scholarship valued up to $6,000 and their respective high schools are:

Allegany — Donald F. Becker, Susan C. Beyer, Karen L. Frick, John E. Hill, Joyce L. Holler, Helen Maguire, Ethel G. Moffatt and Mary Ann Sharer.

Beall—Jay Allen, Nick Centofonti Jr., Keith Price and Duane Sandene. Bruce — Harriett A. Clark, Kenneth Diaz, Donald L. Dunn, Thomas Garcia and Beverle K. Root. Flintstone—James Blubaugh.

Fort Hill—Sherry Boone, Donna Kay Clem, Susan H. Crawford, Dayle Deneen, V. Marlene Fisher, Jacquelin C. Hensell, B. Daniel Hoyle, Elsie D. Hoyle, James L. Hudson, Marlene S. King, Irvin L. Koelle, William Koelle, Larry Malone, Olin J. Perkins Jr., Sharon K. Sampson, Jeanette Shipway and Steven Simpson.

Hyndman — Carol McKenzie. Keyser — George W. Evans and Susan Minshall. LaSalle — Lawrence Grabenstein, Michael Kelly, William F. Lueck, Brian McCagh, Terrence McKenzie, Michael Sawyers, Greg Skidmore, Walter Squillari, Gary E. Tummino and Terrance Walbert.

Mount Savage — Judith Ann Adams, Wayne Phillips and Ralph E. Wilson. St. Peter's — Judith Beckman, Victor Lease, Joan Meyers and Michael Morgan. Valley—Thomas Devlin.

Those eligible to compete for the scholarship are senior boys and girls who will graduate next spring from the designated are high schools and children of employes of PPG's plant regardless of where they are attending secondary school. Also, applicants must have taken the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test which was given last spring.

The scholarship amount which is determined by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation ranges from $250 to $1,500 annually, depending on the student's actual need. The applicant selected will be eligible to receive the Foundation award provided he or she has not accepted other scholarship assistance exceeding $125 yearly, including either government or company-sponsored aid.

Mr. Dyck said the NMSQT results will be evaluated by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and forwarded to the PPG Foundation Scholarship Award Committee which will make its selection from a group of finalists early next year.

The Award Committee is comprised of three distinguished educators who will consider such significant factors as test scores, scholastic record, school recommendations, motivation, leadership, citizenship and general character in selecting the 1964 scholarship winner

Cumberland Influence Felt In Vermont

Special To The News

BURLINGTON, Vt. — The city of Cumberland, Md., has considerable influence in the role of University of Vermont leaders. The president of the University of Vermont, Dr. John T. Fey, is a former Cumberland resident. Joining Dr. Fey in another presidential role is Richard Paye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Paye of 825 Gephart Drive. Paye is the current president of the University of Vermont Student Association, known on campus as the "S.A".

The S.A. is a student run organization which is the nucleus of all non-fraternal extracurricular activities. There are at the university about 30 of these clubs, plus three campus literary societies; The Cynic, the official student newspaper of the university, The Centaur, a campus literary magazine, and The Ariel, the official school yearbook. Each club and literary society receives its support from the S.A.

President Paye arranges and schedules meeting times and space allotment in the new Billings Center which is a renovation of the old Billings Library—long recognized as an architectural landmark in America. In addition to programming, Paye must work out an adequate budget for each group concerned.

The realm of the S.A. does not end with the extracurricular activities but also is instrumental in many campus specials. One of these is the annual Vermont Conference. Vermont Conference picks each year an important problem facing college students and Americans in general. This year's topic is Pride, Prejudice and Discrimination in which four Civil Rights leaders of national prominence have been invited to speak to the university. Other projects, such as chartering buses for students to attend away football games also originates from Paye's office.

President Paye At Work

Paye puts his major fields of study, economics and psychology to good use in his role as S.A. president. He is also an officer in the advanced ROTC program, a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, and a floor counselor in an upper-class resident hall.

Upon graduating in June, Paye will receive his commission in the U.S. Army and be assigned to the Intelligence Division of Fort Holabird in Baltimore.
